

Long Memorial Day Weekend Sets New Road Death Record

Fatalities Far Above Total Reported for 1957 Holiday

Observance of the four-day Memorial Day holiday cost the nation a toll of more than 450 lives in traffic accidents, the worst highway record for any Memorial holiday in history.

Late reports pushed the total of traffic fatalities far above the previous record of 413 for a 102-hour Memorial holiday. The former record was set in 1957.

3 Report No Deaths

Only three states, Hawaii, Delaware and Rhode Island and the District of Columbia went through the four-day period — Saturday, through Tuesday — without a single traffic death.

California, Michigan and Illinois topped the list of states with each reporting more than 30 highway deaths.

The only extended spring or summer holiday traffic death toll to exceed the total this Memorial Day was the 291 recorded during the 102-hour Fourth-of-July observance in 1950.

Other Fatalities

This year's heavy toll on the highways compared with 367 traffic deaths for last year's three-day Memorial Day weekend. Other violent fatalities during the four-day weekend included drownings not involving boats, in boating accidents and from miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all death toll compared to last year's 579.

In the 1957 Memorial Day weekend, there also were 134 drownings and 113 persons killed in miscellaneous accidents for a death toll of 660.

The National Safety Council which joined with police agencies during the long weekend in urging motorists to drive with caution, underestimated the heavy traffic toll.

The council, in a pre-holiday statement, estimated 100 persons.

Norway Pine Stand Near Mountain Lost Before Blaze Ends

Post-Crescent News Service

Two Memorial Day forest fires in widely separated sections of the state charred more than 3,950 acres of timberland before being brought under control.

Destroyed was 3,000 acres in a six-hour fire believed started by a carelessly discarded cigarette along State 7 near Spooner.

planting in the Nicolet National Forest west of Mountain burned this morning. Rangers warned shortly before midnight by 150, or violent fatalities during the four-day weekend included drownings not involving boats, in boating accidents and from miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all death toll compared to last year's 579.

Rain Falling
Light rain was falling in the area this morning. Rangers warned, however, that the forest situation is still critical because of the spring drought.

The fire was reported Tuesday noon by the Lakewood ranger station. Forest service men from Lakewood, Leona and Three Lakes were called out, and were assisted by local residents and other volunteers.

A few mature Norway pines were in the path of the fire. Most of the area was plantation growth some of the pines ranging up to 20 feet in height.

Short Temper Blamed For Chicago Shootings

CHICAGO (AP) — An itinerant race track worker, who police said killed one person and seriously wounded two others, has blamed the shooting spree on his short temper.

"I guess I got mad," Thomas Blanchard, 34, told police. Daniel Saez, 28, father of four children, was shot to death early Tuesday as he lay bound hand and foot in the back seat of his car.

Mrs. Josephine Lobue, 40, a widow and friend of the Saez family was seriously wounded.

Claire Koehler, 26, was shot and wounded following an argument with Blanchard in a West Side tavern.

Blanchard, arrested while sleeping in the dead man's car, admitted the shooting, police said, and was charged with murder. Blanchard gave police this story:

The shootings, authorities said, began shortly after midnight when, after an argument with Koehler in the tavern, the two men went outside and sat in Koehler's car. Minutes later, Koehler staggered back into the bar, shot once in the side of the head.

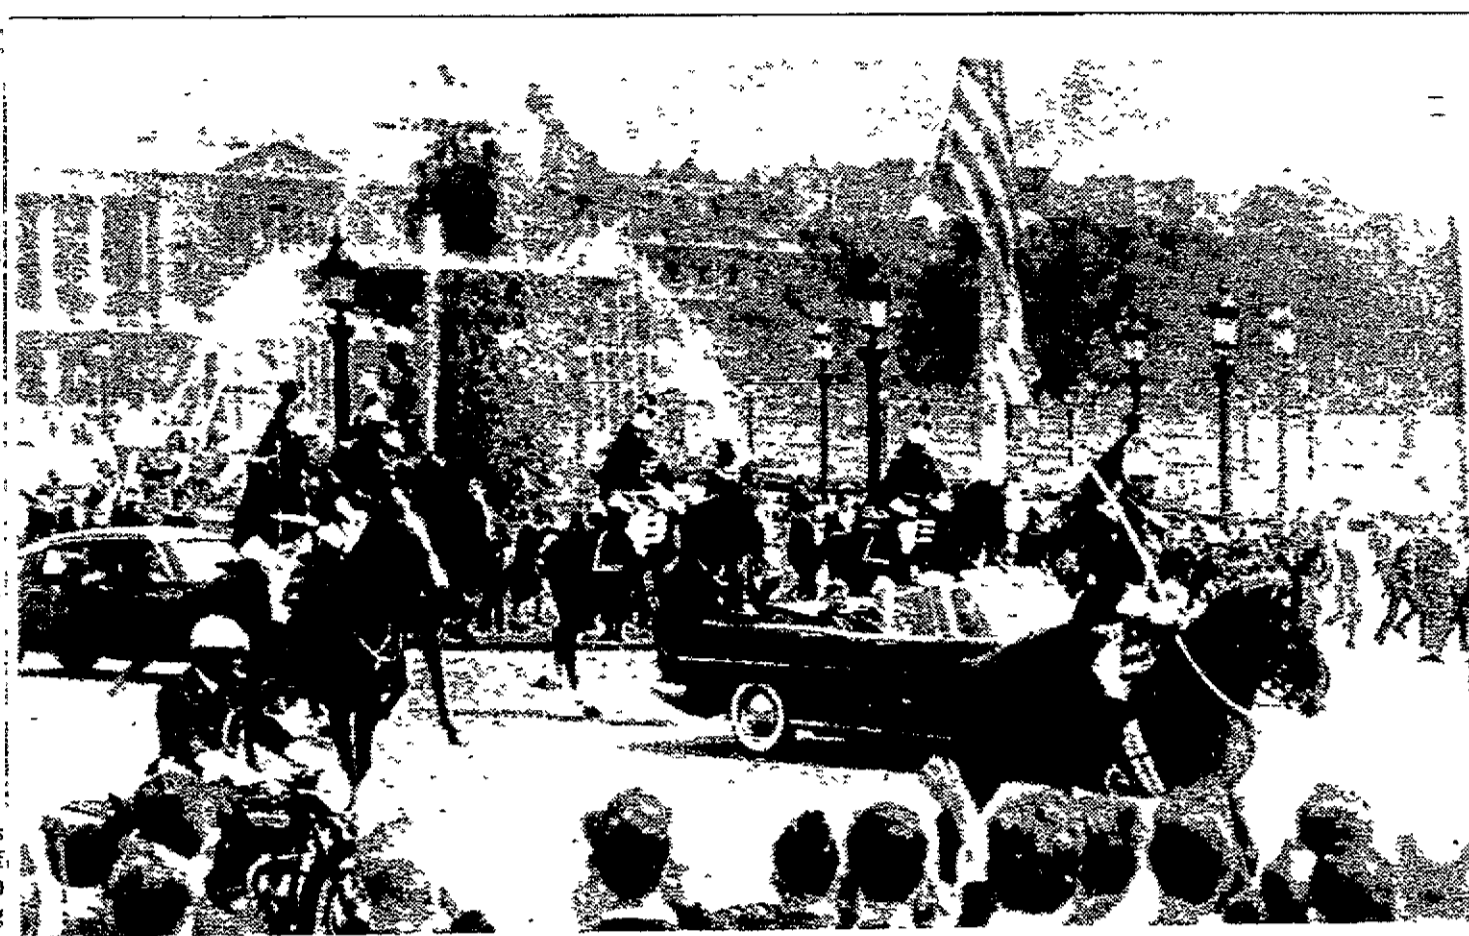

The gunman fled on foot and commandeered the Saez car a few blocks away where it was stopped for a traffic light. Saez and Mrs. Lobue were forced to drive to a deserted forest preserve on the Southwest Side. There, the gunman used Mrs. Lobue's stocking to tie up Saez.

Mrs. Lobue began "giving me a hard time," Blanchard said, "and threatened to get even with me" for abducting her and Saez.

"So I shot her in the mouth," Blanchard told police.

Police said after shooting Mrs. Lobue he shot and killed Saez and fled in the Saez car.

Paris Cheers Kennedy as President Arrives for Talks

Crowds Gather in Place de la Concorde, in the heart of Paris, as the open car carrying President Kennedy and President de Gaulle heads across the Seine to the Quai d'Orsay.

Welcomed by De Gaulle; 101-Gun Salute as French Cheer American Couple

PARIS (AP) — After a 101-gun salute and a warm welcome from the people of Paris, President Kennedy began his first European venture in summit diplomacy at a conference with President Charles de Gaulle.

The streets of the French capital, brilliant with red, white and blue flags against the soft green foliage of spring, wore a gay and festive air. The political atmosphere was grimmer. On Saturday, Kennedy will meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Vienna under the threat of a new Berlin crisis later this year.

Kennedy and De Gaulle opened their allied policy talks 45 minutes before lunch in the president's Elysee palace and were to continue this afternoon. Their concern with a new Berlin move by Khrushchev was a major subject for discussion.

Kennedy on his arrival publicly assured De Gaulle that their own talks in his view are as important as his meeting with the Soviet premier.

Kennedy and De Gaulle reached "general agreement" today on the problem of West Berlin.

This result was announced by a U. S. spokesman. He said the agreement was achieved within the course of a 45 minute discussion when they first met.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen that during the day the two presidents "discussed Berlin, problems of Southeast Asia and the Geneva conference on Laos."

The young American leader, called on De Gaulle, senior statesman of the Western Big Three, just two hours after his jet airliner landed at Orly airport. He had flown from New York in 6 hours and 51 minutes.

De Gaulle, 70, greeted Kennedy, 44, with obvious warmth in his handshake. In his resonant, rolling French he told Kennedy "you are most welcome to France." He spoke of the "difficult circumstances in which the world finds itself and which weigh upon our two countries to concert their actions."

Strength and Unity
Speaking without notes, as did De Gaulle, Kennedy delivered in response a brief statement calling for "greater Western unity and strength."

After the colorful ceremony of the airport arrival with military band and honor guard, the two chiefs headed a motorcade into the city, through the spacious Place de la Concorde and back across the Seine River to the Quai d'Orsay, the Foreign Ministry building where state visitors are housed.

A little group of Algerians armed with grenades stormed a police station in the 19th Arrondissement, wounded a policeman and two accused would be convicted.

Crowd Fights With Police In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An angry throng hurled rocks, bottles, cans, sticks and baseball bats at police when a riot broke out among holiday visitors in Griffith Park Tuesday.

Authorities said the melee started when officers tried to arrest two youths for horseplay on the park's merry-go-round. Police said the offenders were part of a group of Negroes who had been jumping on and off the platform.

Sympathizers in the crowd challenged the arrests and soon a mob of 200 persons was advancing on the officers. One of the beleaguered officers fired a shot into an embankment.

Of the 75 police called out to halt the disturbance, five were injured. Two civilians also were hurt.

Three men were arrested. Officials estimated that 3,000 persons were near the merry-go-round at the time the riot started and that as many as 1,000 probably took part. An unoccupied patrol car was overturned.

Must be Ready to Fight, Rusk States

Free World Must be Set to Meet Aggression, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the free world must arm to meet Communist aggression at every level "from the thermonuclear holocaust to assassination in the jungle."

Rusk opened the administration's argument for a $4.806 billion foreign aid program by telling the senate foreign relations committee "we can afford to do what has to be done."

If the United States fails to undertake a sufficient effort, Rusk said, it must expect the failure of other nations to meet the demands of their people for a better life and from many of these nations "an inevitable collapse."

In order to testify before the senate group, Rusk delayed until afternoon his departure for Paris to President Kennedy in conversation with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Adequate Forces Needed
While the secretary put most of his emphasis on the economic aspects of the program he cautioned that the wider distribution of power "increases the hazards of world affairs in a nuclear age."

Wise policy, Rusk said, requires a sufficiency of military forces to restrain nations from aggression — "and sufficiently diversified military capabilities to deter or meet aggression at every level, from the thermonuclear holocaust to assassination in the jungle."

It requires equally, he said, a strong and sincere determination to advance the cause of disarmament and establish conditions under which nations may reduce their military establishments in the knowledge "they are not exposing themselves to enemy attack."

No Demand for Death Penalty

Ex-Generals Who Led Revolt May Face Life Terms

PARIS (AP) — The prosecution today asked life terms in prison for two ex-generals on trial for leading a military insurrection against President De Gaulle's Algerian policies last month.

In announcing he would not ask the death penalty, the prosecutor said there were extenuating circumstances in the patriotic motives of both ex-generals.

The prosecutor asked life terms be meted out as an example and that a 20-year term in each case would amount, in practice, to life imprisonment.

Verdict Tonight
The defendants, being tried for treason by a special court set up under De Gaulle's emergency powers, are: Andre Zeller, 63, year-old former army chief of staff, and Maurice Challe, 53, year-old former supreme commander in Algeria and later commander in chief of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in central Europe.

The expeditious legal procedure, lasting only three days, was expected to end with a verdict tonight.

There was no doubt that the two accused would be convicted.

Danish Frigate Trails Trawler After Gunfight

COPENHAGEN (AP) — A Danish frigate today trailed the Scottish trawler Red Crusader after shelling her near the Faroe Islands in a Danish-British clash over North Atlantic fishing rights.

The 274-ton Red Crusader retreated toward the Scottish coast under escort of two British warships, which rushed to her aid after the shooting yesterday.

The British naval commanders refused to surrender the trawler, which the Danes accused of fishing inside Danish territorial waters around the Faroes.

Praise for Bodyguard

Kennedy's 'Gorillas' Gentlemen, Not Rough Like French, Paper Says

PARIS (UPI) — A Paris newspaper told its readers today that President Kennedy's "gorillas" are gentlemen — not rough like street crowd happily cheering the passing Kennedy motorcade.

"Gorilla" is the current French slang for bodyguard and the fact that the American secret service men were praised indicated the dress for one of the receptions at the American embassy in Paris, the conservative Daily Figaro deemed it important enough to headline.

Rebuke to French Police
Most papers ran pictures of the President and Mrs. Kennedy on their front pages. The Gaullist paper Aurore in a special article on the subject, are a different breed from the sweating, jumpy French variety.

"Kennedy's gorillas are gentlemen," the paper said in tones of evident reproof of the ways of the French security police at state functions.

The fate that awaited any traitor indiscreet enough to show his sentiments along Kennedy's route through Paris this morning was depicted in a half-page cartoon strip illustrating the Kennedy's activities during their three-day stay.

A snarling, bearded type Cuban, flag in hand, was shown being removed by the scruff of the neck and the seat of the pants by a French policeman from a Latin Quarter.

French Hope For Improved NATO Setup

Think Kennedy's Visit May Help End Weaknesses

PARIS (AP) — Non-communist French political figures generally welcomed President Kennedy to Paris today and said his visit should be the occasion to repair weaknesses in the North Atlantic alliance.

Politicians representing the French right, center and moderate left came together on one essential point—the need for greater unity in North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the extension of its field of responsibility.

They said these should be paramount in conversations between Kennedy and President de Gaulle.

No Basic Differences
These were some of the remarks of Francis Valentin, an independent (conservative) deputy and president of the National Assembly Defense Committee.

"There are no real differences between the United States and France. . . What is (a concern) is the conception of cooperation in NATO."

"The threat (to the West) is limited neither to a territorial zone nor to purely military aggression. The common defense should be extended geographically and take on a political character in the largest sense."

Arthur Conte, socialist, vice president of the assembly foreign affairs committee and member of the Council of Europe.

"The Communist offensive has been launched throughout the entire world. . . If the defense of NATO."

Expect Tide to Bring Additional Crash Evidence

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — High tide was expected to wash more bodies and wreckage ashore today from a Dutch-Venezuelan airliner in which all 61 persons aboard were killed.

The four-engine jet crashed on a storm-swept Atlantic beach early Tuesday soon after taking off from Lisbon for the Azores. The plane had come from Rome and Madrid. Leased by the Venezuelan airline Viasa from KLM.

One American, William Aydelotte, had reservations to take the plane. Aydelotte, a former resident of Chicago, told a reporter, "I felt so good in Lisbon last night that I thought I'd wait for the next plane."

Delay Decision on Tractor Trade Tax

Believe Internal Revenue Ready To Grant Exemptions for Those Who Give to Freedom Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — An announcement of a controversial tax exemption for donations to the Tractors for Freedom Committee has been delayed because of congressional criticism.

Mortimer M. Caplin, committee chairman, said today the IRS won't issue an opinion until its position has been studied by the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

Caplin would not say what sort of decision will be made. However, other sources gave strong indications that Caplin intends to grant the tax exemption.

The IRS chief is expected to act by the end of the week. His opinion will be in the form of a letter to the tractor committee and will state that an exemption will be granted if the group meets a number of legal conditions.

The committee was formed to try to win freedom for 1,200 Cuban invasion prisoners.

The committee would buy 500

Negroes Apply Sit-in Plan at Housing Area

Protest 'Lockout' In Attempts to Buy San Francisco Homes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Negroes are applying to a San Francisco real estate development of 52,000 homes their sit-in technique of protesting segregation. "Our people have been locked out when they attempt to look at the Forest Knolls model home," said Terry Francois, chapter president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

But the lockout keeps potential white home buyers away, too. "So we'll have somebody here every working hour," Francois declared Tuesday when 15 whites joined about 20 Negroes in the sit-in protest on the slopes of Mt. Sutro.

The sit-in procedure started Sunday in support of Willie L. Brown, Jr., 27, an attorney, who attempted to buy a home in the development of the Standard Building Co. Refused to Talk.

Brown, runnerup in the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award competition last year, said he wanted to move nearer his law offices.

Brown said the salesmen refused to talk about selling a house and left the model home area. Throughout Sunday and Memorial Day, normally busy days for house hunters, the model home remained locked and no salesmen were evident.

The Bay Area Catholic Interracial Council said in a statement that Carl and Fred Gellert, who head the Standard Building Co., "publicly declare that you welcome members of all races." The Gellerts and George G. Parsons, Standard Building's general manager, were unavailable for comment.

Man Socks Neighbor Who Played and Sang For Three Days

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Manuel Arias, 36, appeared in court Tuesday charged with simple assault. He had punched an unidentified neighbor in the nose. Arias testified that his neighbor and a friend had been playing the guitar and singing for three days. "I don't blame you," said Judge Lawrence Lang in finding Arias innocent. "I couldn't have put up with it that long, myself."

Look to Ike For Attack on Home Policies

Former President To Address Party Rally on Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are looking to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for a resounding attack on the Kennedy administration's domestic policies at a party rally here Thursday night. The former president was represented by those who have talked to him recently as being in a mood to assail President Kennedy's New Frontiers program as one likely to call for a spending spree threatening the stability of the dollar.

With Kennedy scheduled to begin informal talks in Vienna Saturday with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Eisenhower is expected to refrain from any attacks on foreign policy at this time.

Castro Exchange The presence of his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, on the Tractors for Freedom Committee, which is always fatal. The drug is regarded as an indication that the former president will not join the other Republicans in criticizing the proposed exchange with Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Eisenhower's speech at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner will be his first since he left office last Jan. 20. While Democrats don't think they will like what he says, they are cooperating with Republicans to cut the cost of staging the dinner. The GOP helped reduce the expenses of a similar 6,000-plate birthday affair for President Kennedy in the same armory last Saturday night.

Political Insults While officials of the two nations, committees have gone about their usual business of exchanging political insults in public, they have collaborated privately to share the cost of building platforms, arranging bunting and transporting tables and chairs. Both committees thus saved several thousand dollars. Eisenhower will have lunch at the Capitol Hill Club Thursday noon with Republican leaders. The national committee will meet in the afternoon to conduct

New Drug Cured or Arrested Half Of Test Cases at Medical Center

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Luther Terry said last night that government tests of an anti-cancer drug indicates "we're on our way" toward conquest of the dread disease. Terry described as "a very exciting thing" the results of tests in which the chemical methotrexate was used against a rare form of cancer which develops in the womb of pregnant women.

In the tests at the National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md., the drug cured or arrested nearly 50 per cent of such womb cancer cases. This type of cancer usually spreads rapidly and almost always has been fatal.

Cure Other Forms Other public health officials said that the success with methotrexate opened up the prospect of finding other chemicals to cure other forms of cancer.

In the government tests, 63 womb cancer victims — some near death — were treated with methotrexate. In 30, the cancer was arrested or eliminated, of the remainder, 25 died, one showed no improvement and seven are still being treated. Methotrexate also has prolonged the lives of some victims of leukemia, cancer of the blood.

The government has licensed about 20 anti-cancer drugs for sale to doctors. But officials said none matched methotrexate's apparent ability to prevent recurrence for more than five years in some cases.

Chemical Compound Meanwhile, the Veterans Administration said today a synthetic chemical compound produced at the Dallas, Tex. VA hospital "undoubtedly will speed" development of cancer vaccines.

The VA said a glyco-lipid called Cytolipin H "appears after first tests to be identical to a naturally occurring chemical detected in high concentration in most human cancer cells."

It said the synthetic "will give cancer researchers a new and vital tool to make wider and more detailed investigation into cancer routine business and to get a report from State Chairman Ray Bliss of Ohio on the findings of a committee studying how Republicans can improve their voting strength in the big cities.

French Greet Jackie As One of Their Own

First Lady Featured on TV Program; Brings Painting for Mrs. De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — The French welcomed Jacqueline Kennedy as one of their own after seeing and hearing America's first lady on television. In a 15-minute interview, entire-ly in French, Mrs. Kennedy showed the French she speaks their language with charm and fluency. She spent a year as a student at the Sorbonne in Paris and last visited here in 1959.

Everything from what the Kennedys will eat to what they wear is interesting the people of Paris. One Paris newspaper has been running pictures of women who wear a striking resemblance to the First Lady.

The top couturiers have been busy getting gowns ready for France's first ladies to wear to the two gala formal dinners the Kennedys will attend.

French Ancestry With flags flying and pictures of the President and Mrs. Kennedy in store windows, the three-day visit is expected to draw big crowds here.

Because of her French ancestry and fluency in French, Mrs. Kennedy may be the star attraction. On the eve of their arrival, a half-hour filmed program on the government-operated television network Tuesday night

White Presbytery Invites Negro Churches to Join

ATLANTA (AP) — Three Negro Presbyterian churches have been invited into full membership in the all-white Atlanta Presbytery. The move received almost unanimous backing from ministers and elders, representing the presbytery's 92 churches, during a voice vote.

The Rev. Cyrus Mallard said he understood the Negro churches would be admitted in the near future but may be necessary to wait until the Synod of Georgia meets next year and votes on the presbytery's decision.

Laos Revolt May Wipe Out Christianity

Communists Follow
Usual Courses in Anti-Church Moves

BY RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The advance of communism in Laos is threatening to wipe out Christianity in the northern provinces of this otherwise deeply buddhist kingdom.

The Catholic mission here says the pro-communist Pathet Lao have killed two Catholic missionaries and arrested and presumably executed five more in 18 months.

None of the 60 Catholic fathers of the Oblat De Marie Order who were scattered over the remote mountainous countryside of North Laos could remain with their flocks in the countryside.

They were forced to leave or go to towns.

Usual Charges

A spokesman for the order said the usual communist accusation was that the fathers were equipped with transmitters and engaged in intelligence work for the government.

"We also absolutely deny rumors that some of the fathers were carrying arms and fighting with anti-communist guerrillas," the spokesman said.

The worst of the persecution against Catholic missionaries came within the past month, he said, giving the following account:

The Rev. Vincent L. Henoret, 40, of France, was killed May 11 while returning from services in a village near the rebel-occupied Plaine Des Jarres in Xieng Khouang Province.

Hears Shots

A woman saw the priest talking with three Pathet Lao soldiers on the road and later heard shots. When she went back she found his bicycle and saw the priest's feet protruding from a foxhole.

On April 17 the Rev. Louis Leroy, 38, was arrested by Pathet Lao soldiers in his mission at Ban Pha, some 25 miles southwest of Xieng Khouang when rebels overran the government garrison.

An officer of Kong Le's troops ordered that the priest be allowed to return freely to Xieng Khouang city but he has not been heard of since.

The Catholic spokesman emphasized that Kong Le's soldiers, loyal to Prince Souvanna Phouma, were "much more correct than the pro-communist Pathet Lao."

No Priests

However in all instances inquiries made with Prince Souvanna Phouma through the French military mission brought the reply that the priests were not in Pathet Lao camps.

There are few Christian converts in Laos. The mission estimates the total at 25,000, chiefly among minority ethnic groups such as the primitive Kha, black and red Thai and Meo mountain people.

"They are so few and scattered that they do not represent an anti-communist force," a spokesman said.

"With the priests away they may not lose their faith. The religion will probably die down but we have eternity before us for our work."

Expense Account Living

Reports that the Internal Revenue Service intends to tighten up on expense account deductions for many businesses undoubtedly struck most people as a proper activity for that agency. Stories have been told over and over again of deductions taken by businesses which included lavish entertaining at hotels, night clubs and bars, not to speak of the operation of yachts or the financing of European trips, all in the name of business promotion. But the plans of the Internal Revenue Service have not been welcomed in all quarters.

Recently Vincent Sardi Jr., a New York restaurant operator, testified before the House Ways and Means Committee that the proposed government crackdown on free spending already has chased many business representatives away from lavish restaurants and bars of downtown New York. He says that the effect will not be limited to New York if Congress follows President Kennedy's recommendation.

"This will kill convention business in cities like Chicago, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Miami," Sardi testified.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, asked Sardi:

"Are you suggesting mid-town Manhattan may become a distressed area that would have to seek aid under this legislation we have just passed, and have its people retrained for different jobs elsewhere?"

Sardi replied, "That may sound like an exaggeration but it really isn't." Sardi declared that setting a $4 to $7 limit on business entertainment meals and ruling out tax deductions on food and drink items not directly related to a business deal was going too far.

There may be some abuses, he said, but "you wouldn't fight juvenile delinquency, for example, by abolishing children," Sardi said that the only way New York could meet these artificial, unreasonable limitations would be to work for a faster turnover. For every dollar the government gains in increased taxes, restaurant workers would lose $2 or $3 in wages, Sardi continued.

The rank and file taxpayer who is allowed $600 a year tax free for his maintenance may feel that it would be much cheaper for the taxpayers to support on a straight relief program the New Yorkers who may lose their jobs as a result of this ruling than to do so indirectly by allowing their patrons millions in deductible sums. But the problem is not nearly as simple as that. Many of those testifying remarked that the present law would be adequate if enforced. It might indeed be much better to step up the enforcement than to attempt to fix arbitrary figures for the cost of meals.

'I Always Like to Watch Their Reactions When This One Springs Open'

The Eichmann Trial

Apparently a majority of the people in the United States, Great Britain and Switzerland believe it is a good thing for all of us to review the history of the Nazi era as we now are doing by following testimony in the trial of Adolph Eichmann who is accused of causing the deaths of 6,000,000 European Jews.

There have been some signs from Jerusalem, the site of the Eichmann trial, to the effect that the testimony is not creating the news sensation that was expected.

The fact of the matter is the testimony is a review of material that was published previously. The inhumanities and the brutalities involved in the mass murder of European Jews, when first told, were so shocking as to be beyond understanding and therefore, for many, beyond belief. Even today, as these crimes are recalled they appear unreal.

Nevertheless, according to the Gallup poll, 62 per cent of Americans believe it is a good thing for the world to be reminded of the horrors of the Nazi concentration camps. Only 18 per cent think it is a bad thing and 20 per cent have no opinion.

In Switzerland, 70 per cent of the people think the review as presented by the Eichmann trial is a good thing. Only 19 per cent think it is bad and 11 per cent had no opinion. In Great Britain, the margin was a little closer, 52 per cent said it was a good thing, 29 per cent a bad thing and only 15 per cent no opinion. In the United States, 67 per cent of those interviewed had heard or read of the Eichmann trial. Previous interviews have shown that both British and American people believe the Israeli government took the right course in deciding to try Eichmann in Israel rather than turning him over to an international tribunal. The poll also showed a widespread belief in both Great Britain and the United States that Eichmann is getting a fair trial.

A poll of the Swiss people indicates similar sentiment. Fifty-seven per cent of the Swiss believe the trial is properly held in Israel and 76 per cent think Eichmann is getting a fair trial.

It may be said the trial, which started out in controversy, has been so conducted as to allay all fears that Eichmann was to be railroaded to his death. Most people appear to have confidence in the proceedings now being held in Jerusalem and if the trial is continued with all due consideration to fairness in presenting both sides, the verdict, whatever it may be, will be readily accepted by the public.

The Color of Your Money

There is a movement on in Washington to have American paper money printed in several colors, each color designating a particular denomination. The purpose is to make it less likely that errors will be made in counting bills.

Mrs. Elinor Rudel Smith, the treasurer of the United States, is a strong advocate of the color system. She thinks that the one dollar bill, as the most frequently used piece of folding money, should be honored with the present color, but all other bills above one dollar — the 2-dollar bill, 5-dollar, 20-dollar, 50-dollar, 100-dollar up to 500 — should be dressed up in new easily distinguished colors.

It is a common sense proposal and one that should prove useful to everyone. But that will not save it from strong opposition, some of which already has appeared and probably will delay the plan for many years. Of course we speak of our greenbacks and there is something comforting in having the rich verdant color of spring associated with our visible wealth. But with all paper money in the same color it is quite easy to give or receive a $10 bill instead of a $1 bill. These errors occur thousands of times a day and it is likely that a different color for each bill would end many of the mistakes.

In spite of the opposition, the proposal will be adopted some day, we hope. Then the fellow who today pulls out a roll of bills "looking like $5 worth of head lettuce" probably will be described as the fellow who pulled out a roll of bills looking like a rainbow.

Burma Sees Danger

The Foreign Minister of Burma, conferring in Geneva about the supposed efforts to bring about a neutral Laos, has renewed charges that Nationalist Chinese soldiers are active in Laos and "are likely to infiltrate into Burmese territory again." The Burmese have some background for their charges although they fail to balance all the dangers.

Back in 1949, some 15,000 Nationalist Chinese troops were cut off from escape to Formosa when the Communists overwhelmed their land. They filtered down into Southeast Asia and thoroughly alarmed the Burmese. In 1953, the United States airlifted about 7,000 troops. But last fall Burma found evidence that there were some left. At the insistence of the U.S., the government on Formosa airlifted out another 4,200. Burmese officials insist that 5,000 more fled into Thailand and then to Laos.

United States officials say that the number of such stragglers is minimal and no threat to Burma. Peiping says at least 2,000 are actively fighting Communist troops in Laos.

This all may be confusing to Americans who try to see the situation in Southeast Asia as clear-cut aggression from the north. But why is there no concern from Burma about the thousands of troops from North Viet Nam and perhaps Red China who are fighting in Laos? Why do they not fear infiltration from those who have shown themselves masters at the art?

LeMay Top Man Among U. S. Generals

From The Chicago Tribune

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay will become chief of staff of the air force on July 1. He brings to the new job a brilliant record as a flyer and an equally brilliant record as a military strategist and leader of men.

Gen. LeMay is not a West

Pointer and neither is Gen. George H. Decker, army chief of staff. Neither of them went to a military school. After Gen. LeMay was graduated from Ohio State University in 1923, he became a flying cadet in the army. Gen. Decker is a graduate of Lafayette College in Pennsylvania and came into the army by way of the reserve officers' training corps.

To Gen. LeMay will now go responsibility for most of the developmental work and much of the strategic and tactical thinking in connection with missiles.

The army and navy still have something to say on both these subjects but the primary responsibility was given to the air force in Secretary McNamara's directive announced on March 6.

Gen. LeMay was able to think big when the task fell to him to figure out the most effective way to use our bomber force in World War II. He made a great contribution to the victory because he combined an original and flexible mind with inflexible purpose. We hope that these qualities will serve our country equally well in the missile age.

Writers Hit Editorial; Say Most Alabamans Decent Folks

Editor, Post-Crescent:

We feel constrained (and qualified) to answer your rhetorical question in your editorial, Montgomery and Appleton, of May 24, 1961. The question — "What kind of people are these Alabamans, anyway?" The small minority of Alabamans to which you referred are like their same kind of people in other parts of the United States and the world — non-thinking, callous, ignorant people who feel that they are beyond the law and who commit acts of violence when given half a chance.

The vast majority of the people in Alabama are decent folk who have publicly declared that the events that occurred in Montgomery a week ago Sunday are as shocking and humiliating to them as to any other citizen of these United States. We are Alabamans now living in Appleton. And there are now many Appletonians living in Alabama. We and they feel a deep disgust at the violence which flamed at the Montgomery bus terminal.

An editorial in the Birmingham News of Sunday, May 21, spoke for the responsible Alabamans by saying, "We asked for Federal intervention, and we got it. . . . We, the people, who let our governor, our police commissioner, our elected and appointed officials, state, county and municipal believe we did not mean it when we said we wanted law and order."

We wonder if the last paragraph of your editorial spoke for the responsible people of Appleton and Wisconsin. We are not qualified to comment on your reference to "our grandfathers (who) marched south to meet these Alabamans' grandfathers" 100 years ago. We are not quite sure whose grandfathers marched in which direction. However, we are of the opinion that editorials like yours of May 24, whether then or now, contribute absolutely nothing of a constructive nature to the eventual and gradual solution of a very serious social problem in this country of ours.

Salute to Master Reporter Dick Davis From Newspaper

From The Madison Capital Times

People all over this state who like to see the English language marshalled with force and beauty will note with regret the retirement of Richard Davis of the Milwaukee Journal.

There have been few men in journalism who could write as movingly as this colorful reporter who has honored the newspaper profession by his

It made no difference what story he covered, he made it a memorable event in the life of the reader. It could be the death of an obscure boxer killed in the ring, the funeral of a president, a baseball game, a political convention, a concert, a musical comedy or just a story of Quoted from the Appleton Motor for May 30, 1861.

(Correspondence from Francis A. Ryan, one of the editors of the Motor. Ryan was stationed in Washington, D.C. and signed his news dispatches with his nickname, Frank.)

Washington — We hear all sorts of rumors and surmises that our forces will speedily attack Harper's Ferry, but of course they have no weight or authority. The Administration keeps a close mouth about its doings, as is its duty.

Washington, I judge, has about 30,000 troops within her limits at the present time. It is hoped that some of them soon will be spared to help the persecuted Union men of East Tennessee and Virginia. Every day I note arrivals of Virginians and other Southern citizens, who, with their families, have been driven from their firesides in utter destitution, and their property plundered from them by grog-shop cut-throats and their pretended betters, for the high crime of loving the Stars and Stripes.

But it is to be remembered that this is in strict accordance with the idea of liberty for which the gallant Southerners are waging a war begun in perjury and theft, and likely to end at the gallows — liberty to shoot, oppress, rob anybody they please and to rule wherever they think proper. Allowance should therefore be made.

Nelson and GOP Will Bargain Over Taxes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The time for bargaining in the state house is nearing.

During the next six weeks the state is going to enact a revenue law that could be the most significant adaptation of tax policy in this century. But the situation requires compromise between the Democratic governor and the Republican legislature. Gov. Nelson and the Republican lawmakers need each other's consent to get anything done, and both are keenly aware of it. Lack of an agreement will mean not only a dangerous stalemate in state financing, but possible embarrassment for both parties.

The problem is simpler to state than to resolve. Put in its barest essentials, it is: What will the Republicans have to give the Democratic governor to persuade him to sign a sales tax, or to refrain from vetoing it? Or in another way, how much can Nelson safely demand in concessions from the Republicans on other tax policy matters as a price for his reluctant approval of a sales tax that may not sit well with important elements of his own political following?

THE TERMS
Some of the probable concessions already can be guessed.

a visit to a small Wisconsin town.

Delightful as he is in print, he is even more so in person. There are few men who can bring a temper as volatile, a tongue as sharp, and a contempt as towering to treat the demagogues who cross his path. And for the stuffed shirts his pen and tongue have been more gentle but equally penetrating and disastrous.

There are hundreds of Negro families who live in better housing in Milwaukee because of the devastating series he wrote which shamed that city into action.

He has had more than his share of personal tragedy. Blindness, lung removal, a stroke were among the afflictions. On the eve of one of his proudest moments — the granting of an honorary degree from his alma mater, Lawrence College — his devoted wife died in an accident.

But, though he has always had a bottomless reservoir of sympathy for others, he was never heard to waste any on himself.

We hope that Dick Davis will have a long retirement and that he will keep his ammunition dry. We feel safer if we know he is around ready to fire at those who come along to deface the image of justice and decency for which he has always fought.

Although conservatives generally are suspicious of the income tax withholding device, the Republicans know that the governor prizes it.

There may very well be a disposition to concede some of the other Nelson propositions that are not of any real consequence in revenue terms, but which Democrats regard as canons of their political creed — such as revision of the bank tax laws to bring all banks within the jurisdiction of the corporation income tax.

There have been hints that the Republican legislature might be disposed to cancel some of the budget cuts recently voted — such as the $5,000,000 building commission appropriation Nelson had set his heart upon. The Republican senate leader the other day importantly announced that he might concede more university and state college payroll spending — if the sales tax is enacted.

These items, separately or in combination, could be visualized as Republican concessions to persuade the governor to sign the sales tax that he probably views as inevitable in private.

But Nelson has indicated that he will be a hard negotiator. His most recent public statement said he would not sign any tax revision bill that did not contain a redistribution of present state taxes. That may be a harder nut to crack. It is reasonably evident that the tax redistribution bill as Nelson has drafted it cannot be passed. The problem is how it can be shaved to make it look like redistribution, in Nelson's record, and yet reshuffle local tax shares slightly enough to get a vote in both legislative houses.

COMMUNICATIONS

The problem here is one of communications, and it is especially delicate because of the traditions of full publicity glare in this state capital.

Perhaps a situation that is so favorable to compromise never will return to the capitol — with a governor in one party, the legislature controlled by another. Yet it is one that will make the competing parties wary.

The situation calls for a trusted intermediary, and privacy — which may run against the grain in a statehouse used to full publicity and public participation in decision-making.

The Republicans probably have such an intermediary in Assemblyman Pommerening, the most apt taxation student on the Republican side of the lower house. Pommerening was passed over for the rank he thought he deserved when his house was organized last winter, in part because the GOP leaders there figured he was too friendly with some of Nelson's staff and advisors.

Yet his relations with Nelson's staff men, and the respect they hold for him, may make him the most valued man in the Republican legislative caucus when the time for delicate bargaining with the Democratic executive comes soon.

Great Discovery: Another Way to Avoid Mowing

From The Milwaukee Journal

Science truly can be of great benefit to man. Take the work of a University of California horticulturist by the name of John Madison.

He has been studying grass and he finds that it takes a good five days for it to recover from a mowing. He observes: "If you happen to be busy and let the grass go two weeks between mowings the lawn will benefit."

For years we've hunted, along with many another man, for excuses to delay cutting the lawn. None worked. But now comes science to the rescue. It's a wonderful, exciting age in which to live.

he should have deferred his meet- ing with Khrushchev so as not to detract from the importance of his talks with the French presi- dent.

Western Unity Good

"Our common goals," said Ken- nedy in his brief arrival speech at Orly Airport, "are greater than the preservation of freedom—and the day when France will never again be a beachhead for war but a fountainhead of peace."

"I come not merely because of the past but because of future and associations in the defense of the West—in the defense of freedom everywhere," the President con- tinued. "Once again France un- der a great captain is the cen- tral figure of the common effort."

Kennedy saluted France as "our oldest friend" and "since be- fore my nation's birth the well- spring of Western philosophy and ideas."

"But I am here to pay tribute to France, not for her past glory of his meeting with Khrushchev, but for her present greatness," he said he hoped through better understanding to "lessen the

The 70-year-old French presi- dent shook his 44-year-old guest's hand with warm cordiality and said "we have never known Americans other than as allies and friends."

Kennedy set the stage for his "European venture in summit di- plomacy Tuesday night in a broadcast to the French people, saying "this is a dangerous time for us all." Speaking specifically to France, not for her past glory of his meeting with Khrushchev, but for her present greatness," he said he hoped through better understanding to "lessen the

Hopes for Understanding

"If we can reach a greater un- derstanding on the question of (nuclear) testing and disarm- ment, perhaps on Laos, perhaps on general matters which divide us," he said, "I think that it would make it easier for us to look forward with hope for the future."

American officials hopefully predicted that Kennedy and De

President Kennedy and His French host, President Charles de Gaulle, got together at Orly airport in Paris on the U. S. chief executive's arrival in the French capital. The two are shown in an airport salon after exchanging greeting speeches.

Gaulle would get on well together despite serious differences in their policies toward the North Atlantic Alliance and the United Nations. U.S. officials were confident that Mrs. Kennedy, chic and pretty in her background, would be a smashing success in this interna- tional fashion capital.

Conferred With Others

Kennedy's main purposes in coming to France, U.S. officials said, were to get acquainted with De Gaulle, to promote greater unity within the Atlantic Alliance, and to seek common policies on disputes between the Soviet Union and the West. Kennedy had pre- viously conferred in Washington with British Prime Minister Har- old Macmillan and German Chan- cellor Konrad Adenauer.

De Gaulle discussed the visit with his Cabinet in a late meet- ing at the Elysee Palace Tues- day.

De Gaulle was reported ready to press Kennedy to take a com- pletely inflexible position on Ber- lin in his discussion next week- end with Khrushchev. Informants familiar with De Gaulle's esti- mate of the grim Berlin outlook say he feels that Khrushchev would take anything less than a no-compromise stand as a sign of weakness.

Possible Showdown

Some informants say that De Gaulle wants to know that in a showdown over Berlin Kennedy is prepared to use all necessary force. The French leader is re- ported to have been disturbed by Kennedy's recent emphasis on the need to build up the North At- lantic Treaty Organization's con- ventional strength in Europe.

Kennedy is expected to assure De Gaulle that the United States will live up to its commitments to protect and defend West Berlin against all Communist threats and pressure. De Gaulle appar- ently is not worried about these formal commitments, in which the Allies share, but about whether Kennedy personally is prepared to stand firm at all points in the prospective dispute with Khrush- chev.

De Gaulle is striving to create France's own nuclear striking force. The United States is basi- cally opposed to this, fearing that the development of France as a nuclear power would push West Germany—and other nations as well—into embarking on similar years.

De Gaulle also has proposed of a similar shell still considered that the alliance should be guided by a U.S.-British-French director- ate with worldwide policy-making responsibilities. The United States and Britain have rejected this proposition, arguing it would al- ternate the smaller allies.

might be killed in the 30-hour pe- riod from 6 p.m. Monday to Tues- day midnight. The total was 113. The council did not make an es- timate for the entire 102-hour pe- riod because Monday was gener- ally observed as a work day. However, it said highway deaths for the period at this time of the year would total 335.

An Associated Press survey for a 102-hour non-holiday period, from 6 p.m. Friday May 12 to midnight Tuesday, May 16, showed 341 traffic fatalities. Other violent deaths included 14 in boating, 78 drownings and 105 in miscellaneous type accidents, a total of 539.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John Noe had used an old Civil War shell for a doorstop for 25 to 30 well-into embarking on similar years.

After reading about the finding of a similar shell still considered dangerous, Noe turned the shell over to police. It had a pound of gunpowder in it.

He says there is a second shell stored on his farm in the moun- tains and he plans to go there soon and get rid of it.

New Move to Halt Fighting in Laos

GENEVA (AP) — The control commission of India, Canada and Poland notified the East-West conference in Laos today that it is taking a new initiative to halt the fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

The commission dispatched a report of plans to send truce teams to trouble spots, including Padong, where Meo tribesmen loyal to the pro-Western Vientiane government are under attack from the artillery of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

The commission said it would also send truce teams to the areas of Tchepone and Phalane-Moung Phing-Sepane.

The commission's report arrived as the conference seemed about to resume after a week's recess to hear the United States demand an end to Communist violations of the cease-fire.

U.N. Translator, Interpreter for Khrushchev, Dies

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (UPI) — Nicholas Orloff, 68, former interpreter for the United Nations who translated Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's salty comments, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Orloff had been scheduled to leave for Vienna to help cover the Khrushchev-Kennedy summit meeting for the American Broadcasting Co.

Born a prince in imperial Russia, Orloff was an interpreter for you can fly right over it."

Military Strategist Knows Walls at 10

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — An Oklahoma University professor said his 10-year-old son opened a box of breakfast cereal to get the picture inside. It showed the Great Wall of China.

Said the youngster: "You'd think those guys would have known better than to build a wall like that for defense. Why, you can fly right over it."

United Nations from its first meeting in 1946 until his retirement as deputy chief of the interpreting section in 1956.

He was fluent in six languages and wrote several books, including "Russian Self Taught." Orloff, who became a U.S. citizen in 1941, married the daughter of Grand Duke Constantine in 1917 and fought with the White Russian Army against the Bolsheviks.

Kennedy Must Wrestle With French Dream

De Gaulle Sees His Nation as Equal Power in World

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy must wrestle with another man's dream in his conversations with President Charles de Gaulle in Paris today. It's De Gaulle's dream of a new, great and grand France.

The enormously dignified, some might say vain—Frenchman is 70 now. And for the rest of his life, even if he lives to 90, it's a dream not likely to be realized.

Although the United States and Russia are the only two great powers now, it's Red China, not France, which is moving up.

Except as De Gaulle sees it, there is no likely spot for France in the top echelon of world power during the next quarter century. So the two presidents are not apt to settle much. At best they may understand each other more.

May Be Hardened
At worst De Gaulle may be hardened a little more in both his dreams and his obstinacy. Neither man can walk into the meeting room and lay a bowl of recent triumphs on the table to impress the other.

Fresh in De Gaulle's memory is Kennedy's disaster with the Cuban invasion, the erosion of American power and prestige in Laos, the Russian space flight, which made the American space flight look secondary.

Kennedy, in turn, will be facing a man, 26 years his senior, whose own recent troubles may in the end overwhelm him.

De Gaulle barely squeaked through the generals' revolt in Algeria where the possibility of a new, wider and bloodier revolt is still very real. After three years of talking, De Gaulle still has not brought peace there.

Because De Gaulle is 70 and

Textile Workers Call Off Strike In North Carolina

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP) — The Textile Workers Union of America is formally ending the costliest strike in its 24-year history June 1, the 2½-year strike against the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills.

Except for token pickets, the strike has been over for many months and by any yardstick, it was a failure for the union.

The cost to the TWUA included: —Strike relief amounting to $1,250,000. —The loss of the union's Carolinas director, Boyd Payton, sentenced to jail with seven TWUA members for a dynamite conspiracy. —The loss of the Harriet and Henderson plants, now operating with non-union labor.

"We haven't attempted to measure the effect on the prestige of the union," said Herbert S. Williams, Payton's temporary replacement in Charlotte.

The 22-member TWUA executive council, meeting in New York Friday, officially brought the strike to an end because of not apt to settle much. At best they may understand each other more.

What will any promises from me to him or from him to me mean if he should disappear from the scene tomorrow? Will new generals take over? Will France even remain a democracy?

It's this very uncertainty and long instability which would make Congress reluctant to let France have American atomic weapons, or a say-so on the use of those weapons, both of which De Gaulle would like.

Kennedy therefore can hardly soothe him by promising either.

Prime Donna
But De Gaulle puts himself in the position of a prima donna when he demands equal say-so with the United States in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—NATO—but does not contribute the number of French divisions NATO needs, pulls his Navy out of NATO's Mediterranean fleet, and undermines the United Nations by refusing to contribute France's share of keeping peace in the Congo.

Kennedy cannot afford a split with the Frenchman—for the sake of the NATO alliance and because he needs maximum Western unity when he talks this next weekend with Premier Khrushchev in Vienna.

Nor can Russia afford to go it alone, with France watching her over the rim of Eastern Europe. The Kennedy-De Gaulle talks, therefore, are likely to be polite but not particularly productive.

2 New Film Stars Keep Golden Dozen Intact

Jack Lemmon, Rock Hudson Step Into Top Ranks After Cooper, Gable Deaths

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Golden Dozen has lost two of its members, but two new stars have come up to keep it a glittering twelve.

Three years ago, this writer pointed out that there was a round dozen of film stars who virtually ruled the film industry by their ability to write their own ticket in deals.

They were: Marlon Brando, William Holden, Gary Cooper, Burt Lancaster, Tony Curtis, Gregory Peck, Kirk Douglas, Frank Sinatra, Clark Gable, James Stewart, Cary Grant, John Wayne.

Top Money

Today, Gable and Cooper are gone. Though their box-office draw was off from their prime years, both were drawing top money when they died. Gable was paid $750,000 for "The Misfits," $450,000 weekly overtime for three weeks. Cooper did "The Naked Edge" for $275,000 plus half the profits.

Neither Gable nor Cooper will ever be replaced. But the roles of film fortunes have provided two new members to again make it the Golden Dozen.

They are: Jack Lemmon, Rock Hudson.

Hudson would have made it to the top ranks sooner, except for his restricting contract with Universal, now he is more able to cash in on his vast popularity. Lemmon, long Hollywood's most underrated actor, established himself with "Some Like It Hot" and "The Apartment."

Situation Unchanged

The industry situation has not much changed with regard to the Golden Dozen. I pointed out in 1958 placed on CBS' schedule by more than the 12 men were the real frequent "CBS Reports" plus producers of Hollywood, since they were the only names on which and "Years of Crisis" series, producers felt they could rely. If NBC's "The Nation's Future" will anything, the dozen stars hold no longer be a regular weekly debate program.

To acquire the services of these stars, film companies have to three Westerns leading the TV make concessions that would have herd in popularity with the audience unheard of in the era when the Cohans, Mayers and Zanucks Train and "Rawhide," in the or were absolute monarchs. Nearly der listed.

Princeton to Back Professional Drama For Another Season

PRINCETON, N. J.—(AP)—Princeton University is continuing support of a professional acting company for another season. Initiated during the 1959-60 academic year, the project is designed to provide students with high quality drama and an assortment of guest artists.

Manager Milton Lyon said the undertaking operated at a loss during the break-in season, but that the university's finance committee was continuing the venture with prospects that revenues would increase.

Bette Davis to Star In Williams Drama

NEW YORK (AP)—Having done a musical and an evening of readings, Bette Davis is turning to straight drama for her next Broadway appearance. The film star has signed for principal role in "The Night of the Iguana," by Tennessee Williams. Her co-players have not yet been announced, but the White Way premiere is set for Dec. 26.

The action of the play takes place in Acapulco, Mexico.

Allow Germans To Build Eight New Destroyers

Ships Required to Carry Out Nation's Defensive Mission

LONDON (AP)— West Germany's European allies have authorized her to build eight destroyers of up to 6,000 tons, heavy enough to mount missile launchers.

The new limit approved by the council of the Western European Union (WEU) was double the previous limit under the 1954 Brussels treaty.

The council announced West Germany also would be permitted to build auxiliary naval vessels — supply ships — of up to 6,000 tons and to produce mines for the protection of its ports.

The announcement said the limits were raised because of "technical developments in naval construction and weapons" and to "make it possible for German naval forces to carry out the defensive mission assigned to them by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Navy's Task

Under NATO planning the Germans are charged with trying to prevent Russia's powerful fleet from breaking out of the Baltic into the Atlantic in any war. The Germans contended that destroyers smaller than 5,000 tons are too light to carry missile launchers needed to match Russian weapons in a showdown.

U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, the supreme Allied commander in Europe, endorsed the German request for a raise in the naval limit, but West Germany's European allies delayed approval for a time until they learned more about the German plans.

Americans Go 'Soft' With Bountiful Life

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)— The good life of America—its cars, its push-button, its bountiful larder — is turning us into a nation of softies.

That was the message Tuesday night of "The Flabby American," on ABC.

The picture drawn of Americans, young and old, was not attractive. The program pointed out that our young people have been described as "a generation of marshmallows." An appalling percentage failed simple military physical fitness tests. Many have fat where muscle should be, and most prefer watching sports to participating in them. We adults use our bodies even less.

Need Exercise

What is the answer? "Exercise," said ABC's experts, advising half-bends and stair climbing for those who are too old for deep knee bends and pushups.

The program, one of the "Close-up" series, elected to skim the surface of a large area instead of concentrating on one facet. Hence, the program was neither as authoritative nor specific as it could have been. But it made its point: We are not using our bodies as much as we should and we ought to do something about it, right now.

'Cheaper by Dozen' to Be Made Into Musical

NEW YORK (AP)— "Cheaper by the Dozen," the bestseller of 12 years ago about small-town big family life, is on Broadway's autumn agenda, as a musical.

The adaptation is by Christopher Sergel, stage sire previously of "Winesburg, Ohio." David Rogers has written the lyrics, and the score is by Mark Bucci.

Painter Henry Fonda Prefers Still Lifes

NEW YORK (AP)— As a painter, Henry Fonda concentrates on still lifes.

The star of Broadway's current comedy, "Critic's Choice," says that he moves about so much on assorted assignments, and his time for painting is so erratic, that he can depend only on immobile objects to stay put between easel sessions.

Milk Price Control Bill Offered State

Independents Back Control Law Similar To Requests of 1930s

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The legislature is being asked to consider a fluid milk price control bill of a kind that has not been seriously pushed in the state since depression days of the 1930s.

A bill has been prepared for introduction on behalf of the independent fluid milk processors and distributors to create a state agency that would regulate trade practices and set retail and producer level prices as a means of guaranteeing costs of production, processing and handling, plus a reasonable profit.

The three-member state milk control board would have no other statutory standard to follow, although it would be directed by law to consider also the need for sale, according to Radue.

according to a spokesman here. Roger Radue of Madison has been retained as legislative counsel to push the measure on behalf of the sponsoring distributors. The regulatory powers of the state control board would extend to the whole fluid milk industry of the state, and include all stages of processing and marketing. For purposes of administration of the act, the whole state would be embraced within a fluid milk market area.

The regulatory scope of the program would include the establishment of "reasonable trade practices and systems of leveling seasonal production," explained Radue in a memorandum prepared for legislators.

All dealers and handlers would be licensed. In addition to license fees, the new state department would collect for financing of administration costs at the rate of six cents per hundredweight for the first year and according to budget needs in succeeding years. The prices paid to producers, according to the bill, could be higher but not lower than the relevant federal marketing orders in effect in the several districts of the state. Prices might vary by classification and conditions of sale, according to Radue.

Middle-Aged Should Work to Remain Fit

BY RICHARD McFARLAND
CHICAGO — (UPI) — A middle-aged man had the stuff to make America's first flight into space. But that doesn't mean the average middle-aged guy has anything to go into orbit about.

True, spaceman Alan Shepard is 37 years old and technically that's middle aged. His achievements made a lot of men over 35 suddenly feel a lot younger. If scientists picked a 37-year-old as the nation's first astronaut, a lot of men reasoned, then maybe there was still some zip and ginger left in them.

Sure there is, a medical authority said today. But the average man, whether or not he thinks he's middle aged, should still remember that Shepard made a full-time job of keeping himself in top physical and mental condition.

Ease Into Job
The man who's over 35 has to ease into the job of getting into peak physical condition. In the meantime, he'd better lay off sprinting after commuter trains or staying up too long after his bedtime.

This advance comes from Dr. W. W. Bauer, director of health education for the American Medical Association and a member of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Youth Fitness Commission.

"Age isn't the only criterion for determining fitness," he said. Shepard is one good example. He's made it a full-time job to keep fit.

"Another example is Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is 40. Another is Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves. He's 40. A classic example is the king of Sweden who played tennis into his 30's. Another outstanding example is H. V. Kaltenborn, the news commentator, who played tennis through his 70's. These fellows keep in good condition.

White Example
"And there's Dr. Paul Dudley White, former President Eisenhower's personal physician. A couple years ago I tried to get him on the phone and his office told me that this man in his 70's was out in the Arctic taking electrocardiograms on whales," Bauer said. The man in his 30's, 40's or 50's who wants to be as fit as a spaceman should first go to his doctor for a medical checkup. Then he should start his exercising slowly, Bauer said.

"The ordinary fellow ought to get himself a personal sport and stick with it on a regular basis," Bauer said. "He can walk, ride a bike, golf, swim, garden, play handball or tennis or volleyball. Or he can get out and push a lawnmower instead of getting one of those things that pulls you.

Broken In
"After you've broken yourself in sensibly, you ought to get out there and work up a sweat—and not just once a week," he said. "It's a poor combination to put in a sedentary week and then put in a strenuous weekend."

Another bad combination, Bauer said, is to spend 50 weeks at a desk then spend two weeks outdoors trying to conquer the world. "The ordinary man can't be another Shepard but he can keep in fairly good shape if he tries."

Dr. Bauer himself is a good example of what he's talking about. "I'm crowding 70," he said, "but I still do a lot of walking. I climb two or three flights of steps every day after lunch and I still work up a sweat in my garden."

Children to Eat President's Cake

BOSTON (AP)—President Kennedy's birthday cake, all 500 pounds of it, will be eaten today.

The huge cake, which went untouched at Monday night's 100-plate dinner, was moved intact to Nazareth Child Care Center after the big affair in Commonwealth Armory.

All day Tuesday the tempting mountain was on display at the center. The Catholic nuns in charge of the children said many of the children were away for Memorial Day and "we'll have an ice cream and cake party for everybody tomorrow."

Car Bounces 40 Feet, Driver Gets Cut Lip

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — An auto left Route 120 near here Tuesday, crashed into a culvert, flipped 40 feet through the air, bounced once and landed on its demolished auto with a cut lip and a few bruises. He told state police his car left the road when of Emporium, crawled from the the sun blinded him.

Foxes Divide Pair With Des Moines

Scott Hurls 7-4 Victory In Opener

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The Fox Cities Foxes subdued Des Moines, 7-4, Tuesday afternoon in one of their rare displays of raw batting power this season. The Foxes belted 14 hits — their peak total of the campaign — all over Goodland Field in the lead-off portion of the day — night doubleheader.

For eight innings, the Foxes had choice pitching to complement their hitting, as Bob Scott limited the Demons to three singles in that span.

In the ninth, Scott, who was working for the first time in 18 days after recovering from an ankle injury, tired and was chased to cover. Des Moines pushed across four runs — on two walks and three hits — before John Miller, one of the Foxes' bullpen beauties, squelched the rally and saved Scott's initial 61 win.

Collects 3 Hits

Scott was as impressive with the bat as he was with his arm, rounding out three singles in four trips and driving in two runs. Joe Pulliam, with 3-for-5, joined Scott at the head of the Foxes' hit parade.

Jim Caldwell helped himself to half the game's extra-base hits, a triple and a single. Dick Yench, who had his first multi-base hit of the season — a triple to deep right center in the seventh — and also got a single. Jim Liggett drove out a pair of singles.

Sam Bowens and Ron Piotrowski were the only Foxes unable to reach loser Harry Oliver or reliever Bernie Belan for a safety.

Scott, who showed an excellent curve ball and good control, didn't allow a hit until Richie Haines beat out a lead-off bunt in the fifth. He gave up outfield singles to John Self in the seventh and Chico Heron in the eighth — and they were the only Demons to reach third base before the ninth.

In the ninth, Scott walked Bob Carmo and Self. Haines hit a 2-bagger to the wall in right field, scoring both runners. Irv Clark singled in Haines and took second on the throw-in. Heron flied out, but Tad Sloan singled to center for the fourth run.

Strikes Out Romero.

Miller replaced Scott and promptly struck out pinch batter Gil Romero. Gene Hassell reached base on shortstop Yench's low throw to first, bringing the potential tying run to the plate in the person of Don Lightner. "Photo" Anthony and Yench collaborated.

Cedar Rapids Gains Tie for 3-1 Loop Lead

Tops Bees Twice; Reds Drop 2 of 3 to Lincoln

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Onrushing Cedar Rapids pulled into a tie for first place in the Three-I League Tuesday with Topeka, which lost ground when the Reds dropped two out of three decisions to Lincoln.

A sweep of Burlington, 3-2 and 7-5, gave Cedar Rapids a big lift. Paul Snyder homered in the eighth inning to win the opener. In the same frame of the nightcap Gene Johnson singled and Karl Franz tripled to tie the score at 5-5 and Steve Ryder's single brought home the clincher.

Lincoln, a pitch away from a 7-5 victory Monday night when the lights failed, closed out To-

Walks Help Demons Win Finale, 10-4

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"A walk's as good as a hit," they say, and if this is true, the Des Moines Demons used a "20-hit" attack to defeat the Fox Cities Foxes, 10-4, Tuesday night and even the current series at two games apiece.

No fewer than 14 of the 20 "hits" were by the medium of the greatest "ulcer creator" in baseball, the base on balls. The winners had 6 real hits and were aided by three Fox Cities' errors.

Dave McNally, the young Billings, Mont. lefthander who is having trouble getting started in his first season of organized baseball, issued eight of the free tickets to first base; but relievers Joe Puleo and Dick Tetraut also had some control trouble. Puleo and Joe Puleo and Dick Tetraut also four.

Best Effort

Tetraut put forth the best effort of the trio, however, as he fanned six and gave up only two safeties in four innings. Tetraut allowed two runs but both were unearned. McNally was charged with five earned runs and Puleo, two.

The rubber game of the 5-game series will be played tonight. The probable pitchers are Herman Starrette for the Foxes and Ray Culp for the Demons.

The Foxes got off to a three-run lead in the second inning against Demon left-hander Bob Hellmer.

"Photo" Anthony, Joe Pulliam, Sam Bowens and John Griffin had successive hits. Pulliam's poke went for two bases. Two of the three markers came across on Bowen's single.

Hellmer limited the Foxes to five hits the remaining distance. He fanned 11 and walked only two.

Bowens Doubles
Bowens drove home the only other Fox Cities run in the sixth when he followed Pulliam's single with a booming double down the left field line.

The Demons scored before they had their first hit when they put together a walk, a passed ball, a ground out, and a wild pitch, prior to Gil Romero's single in the third.

Des Moines moved into the lead for good in the fourth on only one hit, a base-clearing triple by Romero. McNally walked the first four batters, forcing home the first run.

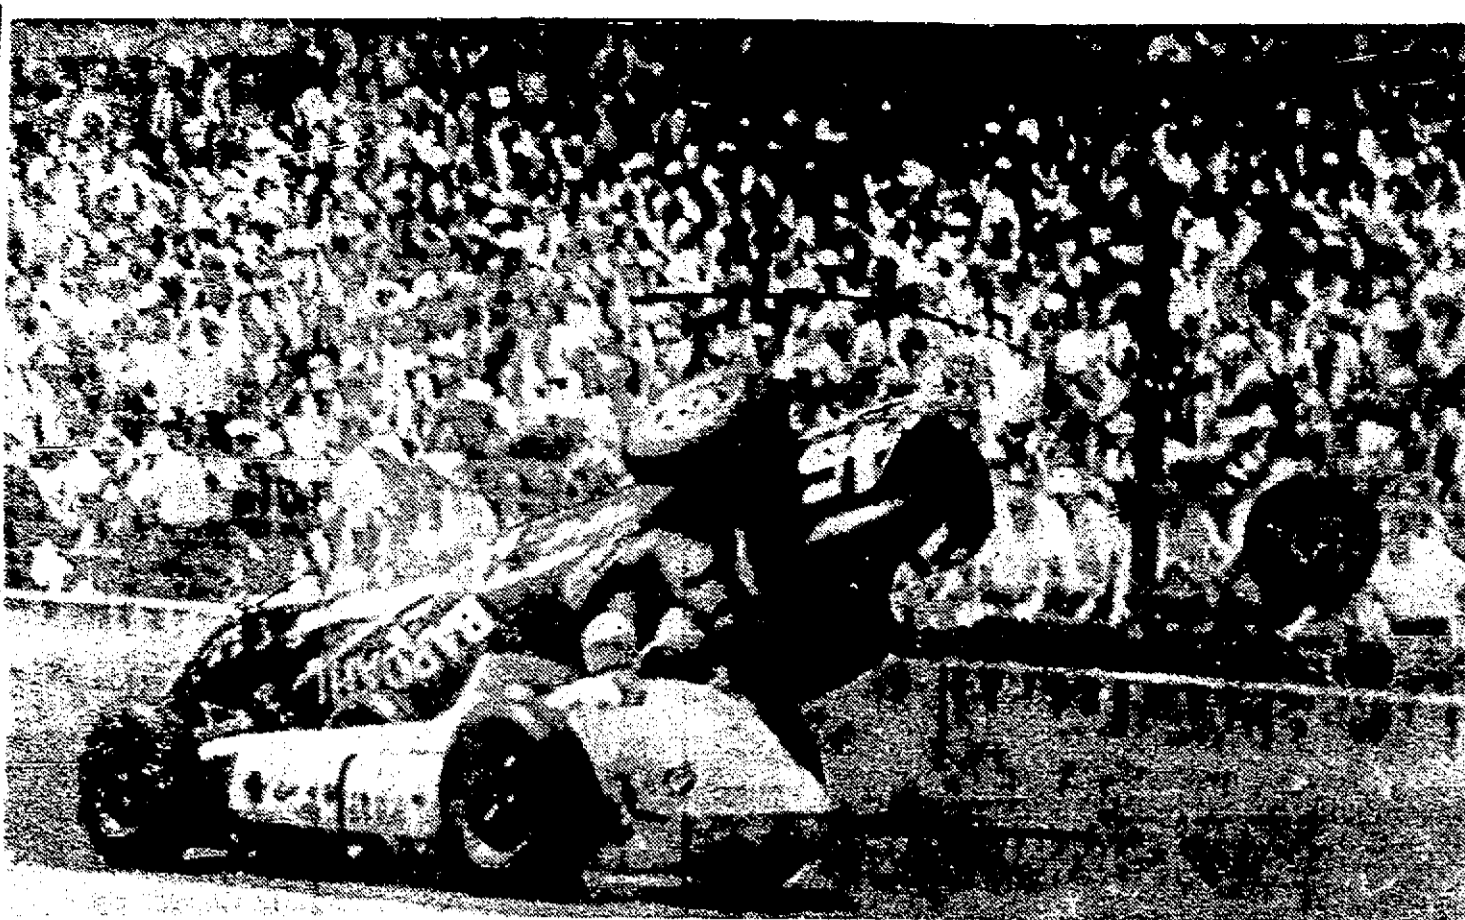

Romero and Gene Hassell were the big guns for the Demons. Romero driving in four, and Hassell, three, of the 10 Des Moines runs.

Hassell sent in two in the third with a double and he scored himself when Romero followed with a single.

Irv Clark accounted for the final two markers with a homer after Richie Haines was safe on Dick Yench's error.

FOX TALKS: Frank Montgomery arrived just prior to game time and renewed old acquaintances. Manager Earl Weaver and George Stewart, the Foxes club house man, rigged up a

A. J. Foyt Beats Sachs by 8½ Seconds, Smashes Record in 500-Mile Race

Worn Tire Forces Eddie to Give Up Lead With 3 Laps Remaining

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, who sits mighty tall in a race car seat, won't know until tonight's victory dinner how much he won Tuesday by capturing the golden anniversary 500-mile auto race in a record 139.131 miles an hour.

What he does know is that the $100,000 or so almost slipped through his fingers in a ferociously contested race that knocked out 21 of the 33 starting cars. And it wasn't until Tuesday night that he learned he had set a record instead of an almost. This because of a breakdown in the timing.

It was a three-car race in the last stages among Foyt, 26, Houston, Tex.; Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., and 1959 winner Roger Ward. It finally was decided in the pits.

Borrows Refueling Rig
Foyt made his third and supposedly last pit stop for tires and fuel, but the connection on the pressure fueling system wouldn't work. His crew borrowed a refueling rig from Len Sutton's pit and called Foyt back in for an extra stop.

Meanwhile, Sachs was flying and looked like a sure winner after failing to finish in four previous starts. Then his right rear tire wore ragged and he had to stop for a new one with only three laps—7½ miles—to go.

Foyt passed Sachs as the Pennsylvanian was gunning his car out of the pits. The handsome Texan beat Eddie to the finish line by 8½ seconds. With four pit stops apiece, Sachs spent 82.5ths seconds longer off the track.

Foyt drove the Indianapolis Bowes Special. Sachs the Long Beach, Calif., Dean Special.

Ward, having handling trouble with a new type Watson car, was less than a lap behind in third place. He could sympathize with Sachs because a worn tire forced Ward to surrender the lead to winner Jim Rathmann late in last year's race.

Mechanical trouble sent Rathmann to the sidelines Tuesday after he had led part of the race. Other leaders at various times included 1952 winner Troy Ruttman, who became physically exhausted; rookie Parnelli Jones and second-time starter Jim Hurtubise.

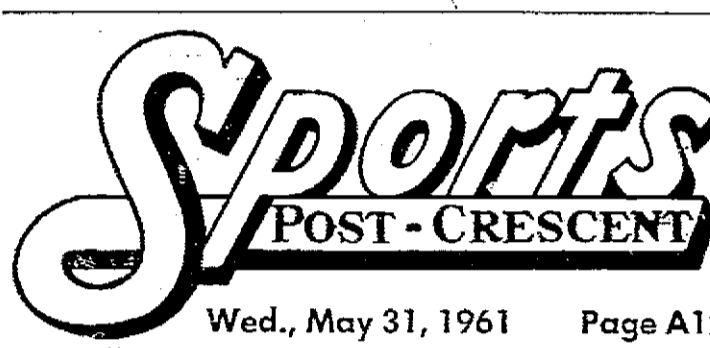

Hurtubise and Jones both suffered facial cuts from small flying objects, and Jones' cut forced

Spahn Faces Gibbon In Tonight's Opener Of Pittsburgh Series

Braves Split With Phillies; Buhl Twirls 4-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Young Art Mahaffey, the fireballing right-hander for the Philadelphia Phillies, held Milwaukee to eight scattered hits in the nightcap of a doubleheader Tuesday to score his second straight victory over the Braves, 11-4. The Braves won the opener 3-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Buhl.

Mahaffey, who held the Braves to four hits and beat them 7-1 at Milwaukee last Wednesday, had little trouble coasting to a victory after home runs by Ken Walters and Pancho Herrera gave him a good cushion.

It was the sixth victory against three defeats for the 22-year-old Mahaffey and it was his eighth completed game in nine starts.

His mates made it easy by scoring six runs off Carl Willey in the third inning. The big blow was Tony Gonzalez' double with the bases loaded and a two-run homer by Walters.

Herrera clouted his fifth homer of the season in the seventh with two runners on base to sew up the victory.

Buhl turned in an excellent performance in going the distance for the Braves in the opening game. He was seldom in trouble, despite the fact he walked six men. Buhl struck out four.

Hank Aaron's triple in the opener.

Cards Trade Daryl Spencer To Dodgers

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Cardinals have traded Shortstop Daryl Spencer to the Dodgers for Shortstop Bob Lillis and Outfielder Carl Warwick.

Dodger Manager Walt Alton said in Los Angeles that Spencer would play third base, moving Tommy Davis to right field.

"We feel Spencer's long ball hitting will help greatly in the Coliseum," said Alton.

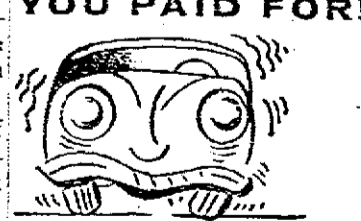

The 32-year-old Spencer has been with the Cards a little over a year. Last year he hit .258. So far this year he has been hitting .260.

Last year at St. Paul, in the American Association, Warwick hit .292 and had 19 homers.

Lillis is a 31-year-old Altadena, Calif., resident and has been playing since 1951.

Last year at Los Angeles he hit .267 in 48 games. He played during part of 1958 and part of 1959 with Los Angeles. He has been in 98 games with a batting average of .305.

to newspapers in the back of a bus carrying the team from the Philadelphia ball park to an airport Tuesday night. June 15 is the last day for major league teams to make trades.

The blaze caused no damage but brought plenty of heat from Dressen.

"You play like nanny goats and then you act like you won the pennant," Dressen barked at the players. "You would think you

Dressen referred to the Philadelphia hurler Art Mahaffey who beat the Braves 11-4 after the Milwaukee club had taken the opener 3-1. The Braves were enroute to the airport to catch a plane to take them to Pittsburgh where they play tonight.

"June 15 is coming and some of you guys won't be with us," Dressen said. Then he added "and that doesn't include the manager."

Dodgers Stay Close With 5-3 Success Over St. Louis

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a long climb back to the top, but the Cincinnati Reds finally made it, rocketing out of the cellar by winning 20 of their last 28 games for a share of the National League lead in what amounts to a three-way jam with San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Reds had first place all to themselves back on April 20, then nose dived into an eight-game losing slump that plunged them into eighth place just a month ago. Now they've tied the Giants for first, 10 percentage points ahead of Los Angeles, by sweeping a Memorial Day doubleheader at San Francisco 7-6 and 6-4.

The Dodgers, who have played four more games than the Reds and Giants, winning two and losing two, crept under the blanket that covers the leaders by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 in a night game.

Pirates Fourth
Pittsburgh's defending champs stayed in fourth place, 3½ games behind, after dropping a pair to the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and 10-0.

And fifth place Milwaukee remained at .500, 4½ games behind, after splitting a doubleheader at Philadelphia. The Braves won the opener 3-1, but the last place Phils bounced back for an 11-4 romp in the nightcap.

The Reds and Giants slugged seven home runs in the opener, but it was an unearned run—scoring after third baseman Jim Davenport of the Giants dropped a pop up with two out in the

Ann Stranahan In Quarter-Finals Of British Meet

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)—Ann Stranahan of Toledo meets Miss D.J. Robb of England in the quarter-finals today as she continues her surprisingly strong bid for the British women's golf championship.

"She's playing almost as well as the old man can," her husband, U.S. pro Frank Stranahan, commented Tuesday after Ann flirted with par in winning a pair of matches.

Mrs. Stranahan, never a threat in three previous appearances in the tournament, shot a 79 in winning a third round match 1 up from Mrs. Heather Anderson of Scotland. Her afternoon victory was much easier, a 5 and 4 triumph over Scotland's Shirley Philip after the American had won four of the first five holes. The tournament is wide open since the withdrawal of Philomena Garvey of England, who injured an ankle in a fall at her hotel. She was runner-up to champion Barbara McIntyre of Lake Park, Fla., last year. Miss McIntyre did not return to defend her championship.

London — Johnny Caldwell, 117½, England, outpointed Alphonse Halimi, 116½, France, 15, (For European version of world bantamweight title).

The Post Office and Miller Electric softball teams continued to set the pace in the American Industrial League as both recorded victories Tuesday night.

The Post Office edged Elm Tree, 4-2, and Miller's defeated Interlake, 6-4. Appleton Coated forfeited to the Post-Crescent and the AAL-Valley Iron game was postponed.

Dick Melcher went the distance for the Post Office limiting Elm Tree to six hits. Bill Brandt supplied the power for the winners, hitting homers in the first and sixth innings.

Pair of Hits

Bert Tardiff was the loser for Elm Tree although he allowed only five hits and did not walk a man. Dick Miller paced the losers with a pair of hits in three tries.

Miller Electric scored all six of its runs in the fourth inning to defeat Interlake. Jerry Vanden Heuvel was the winner for Miller's, and Bob Diener was the loser.

Interlake scored three runs in the second and added a single tally in the fifth. Vanden Heuvel recorded five strikeouts, and Diener had 12.

Research and Development defeated River Street Plant, 7-4, in the other game on the slate.

The league has undergone a reorganization since the start of the year. The first three weeks of the schedule have been thrown out as Neenah Plant has dropped out of the loop. Washington Street Plant is the replacement.

Teams will use the same schedule but the scheduled contests for May 8, 15, and 22, are rescheduled for June 26, July 10 and 17, at the end of the first round slate. Al Chouinard is the new commissioner of the league.

Bruce Timm Hurls No-Hit Marathon Win

NEENAH — Bruce Timm, of Carton Miehle, pitched a no-hit game in the Marathon Softball League earlier this week as his team won an 11-3 encounter over Neenah Office.

Pitching

Steve Barber, Skinny Brown and Hoyt Wilhelm, Orioles, held White Sox to seven hits and one run in doubleheader sweep. Barber allowed just three singles for a victory in opener and Brown and Wilhelm combined for four hits, 2-1 decision in second game.

Hitting

Ron Santo, Cubs, went 5-for-6 in doubleheader sweep over Pirates, driving in deciding runs with 2-run single in eighth inning for 5-3 decision in first game, and getting three hits and another RBI in 10-0 nightcap victory.

ninth—that handed it to the Reds. The Giants just missed with four runs in the ninth, three on homers by Charlie Hiller, Hobie Landrith and pinch-hitter Willie Mays, who had been rested by Manager Al Dark. Rookie Jim Maloney (2-2) was the winner, and hit one of the Reds' three home runs. Sam Jones (4-4) lost his third in a row as a starter.

The Reds then made it five straight with a sweep of the three-game set by scoring four runs in the third against Juan Marichal (2-2) in the second game. Bob Purkey, making his first relief appearance of the season, saved it for lefty Jim O'Toole (15-4) in the ninth. The Giants now have lost three in a row and six straight at home.

From Behind

Consecutive doubles by Jim Gilliam and Willie Davis and an error by Card catcher Hal Smith brought the Dodgers from behind with two runs in the seventh against loser Bob Gibson (2-2). Right hander Stan Williams (4-3) and reliever Larry Sherry held the Cards to three hits, one a homer by Curt Flood. The Cards had two on with one out in the ninth when Sherry saved it by striking out Ken Boyer and getting Stan Musial to line out. It was the third straight success for the Dodgers.

Ron Santo's two-run double won the opener for the Cubs, and right-hander Don Cardwell (4-2) then blanked the champs on seven hits in the nightcap as the champs lost their fifth in a row. The Cubs, after losing seven straight, beat southpaw Wilmer Mizell (4-2) an dright-hander Bob Friend (5-6), collecting 25 hits in the two games and hitting two homers in each. Dick Ellsworth (2-3) was the first-game winner. Mizell had beaten the Cubs 14 times in 15 decisions going back to 1958. Friend now has lost six in a row as a starter, giving up 10 hits and six runs in four innings in this one.

Bill Borchert Hurls 2-Hitter In Softball Loop

KAUKAUNA — Bill Borchert twirled a 2-hitter to lead Bud's Phillips 66 to a 5-0 win over Dick and Betty's in the City Softball Loop Monday.

The winners have a 2-0 mark, while the losers are 1-2. Bud's Phillips scored four runs in the fourth on Tuesday the signing of Jack Mitchell, Notre Dame University pitcher, to a bonus contract.

Mitchell, 22 and a righthander, will be assigned to a Twins farm club. He compiled a 15-7 record ball at Notre Dame where he is a senior, and came within one strike of pitching a no hit in 1960 against Kent State. Mitchell stands 6-3 and weighs 185.

Amount of the bonus was not disclosed.

Wisconsin Wire Works grabbed an early lead and defeated Riverside No. 2 to remain undefeated in National Industrial Softball League play this week.

Wisconsin Wire topped Riverside, 11-7, and in other games Appleton Wire topped Kurz and Root, 12-7 and IPC rolled over the Police, 17-7.

Wisconsin Wire rattled 15 base hits and opened up a 7-3 lead after three innings to coast by Riverside. George Zimmer of the losers hit a homer.

Appleton Wire moved out in front with four runs in the first inning and had little trouble topping Kurz and Root. John Kadig homered for the winners and had three hits in as many tries.

IPC lost little time in handing up the Police team its second loss, as the victors pushed across 12 runs in the first inning.

Ed Daleski and Warren Polman that sent him to the Braves training camp at Bradenton, Fla., this the winning hurler and Cliff Bork took the loss.

Torre, who will be 21 in July, signed as a free agent with the Braves last year and spent his first season in organized baseball in the Police (Wis.) in the Northern League where he was batting king and rookie of the year. It provided the springboard that sent him to the Braves training camp at Bradenton, Fla., this the winning hurler and Cliff Bork took the loss.

er broke up the pitching duel between Buhl and southpaw Don Ferrarese, who was making his debut as a starter.

Aaron's three-base blow in the eighth sent Felix Mantilla and Ed Mathews across the plate to break a 1-1 tie. Mantilla and Mathews had walked.

The Phils opened the scoring in the sixth when Tony Gonzalez tripled to lead off. Charley Smith walked and Clay Dalrymple hit into a double play to send Gonzalez home.

Frank Thomas tied the score for Milwaukee when he hit his sixth homer of the year with the bases empty in the seventh.

The Braves used five pitchers in the second game after Willey was tagged for six runs in the third. Don Nottbart went 2-3 in the third and didn't give up a hit or run before he was lifted. Seth Morehead pitched 1-3 in the third and was touched for four hits and three runs. Don McMahon went 1-3 in an inning and didn't issue a hit while Moe Drabowsky pitched the eighth inning and was tagged for two runs on two hits.

Milwaukee plays at Pittsburgh tonight with Warren Spahn (5-3) hurling for the Braves and Joe Gibbon 3-21 for the Pirates.

aleah and the Florida Derby at could have done a better job with Gullstream. Then came the Kentucky Derby and Preakness. All were $100,000-plus races, and Sellers bided his time like an ice man before turning Carry Back loose for his pulsating stretch runs. "He fits the horse perfectly," said Price. "But Sellers cuts it so thin—he's no help to my ticker."
Sellers, one of the most traveled riders in racing, is married to a pretty, blonde native of Louisiana. She is the former Janice Lyons, and they have a son, 2, named Mark. The jockey likes fishing, hunting, swimming, and "I don't know any rider who owns a motor boat."

NEW YORK (AP)—Why not a smidgen of credit for Johnny Sellers, the lean-faced 23-year-old Crozier by three-quarters of a School last spring, he was the State Stakes, the world's richest jockey who will be out there Saturday at Belmont Park trying for would have outdone the chilliest the land. He owns an Oklahoma ranked jockey in number of wins in 1960, and his mounts earned $1,464,530. At the usual 10 per cent for the jockey, that figures out to be $146,453.50. Now it will be the $125,000 added Belmont Stakes, and $740,000, won the Flamingo at Hialeah.

Traditional Prom Creating Headaches, Tragedy in U. S.

Some Educators Believe School Event Growing Too Big, Adult

BY DAVID SMOTHERS
United Press International
The prom has become an excuse for continuing a party in all directions on an adult level. I hate to think that any function which gets high school boys and girls together has to be expanded to an adult level in order to be desirable.

These are the words of Mrs. Clifford Jenkins of Roslyn, N. Y., the new president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers (PTA). She was speaking at the PTA's national convention in Kansas City, Mo., last week.

"This is my 10th prom and it will be my last."

The speaker is Snell Jones, superintendent of schools at the little town of State Center, Iowa. Jones is quitting the school system because of a prom night traffic smashup in which a boy was killed and five youngsters were injured.

"Our prom is a very fine thing. It's a very pleasant social occasion to terminate the high school career."

This is the opinion of Dr. Raymond W. Knight, principal of the Tulsa, Okla., Rogers High School.

"It's a real blast — a real ball."

'Grand Night Party'

That is an exuberant Los Angeles high school student looking forward to the "grand night party" — an offshoot of the prom which has added greatly to the troubles surrounding the big night of the high school year.

Prom night is a cherished tradition in most American high schools. It is the night when juniors rent themselves a tuxedo and in cities and towns throughout the nation this week, teen-age boys and girls are experiencing the joys and agonies of the greatest social event of their young lives—the high school prom. The prom is the traditional culmination of the high school year and has become an American institution. But some educators feel it has grown too big. United Press International made a spot check of typical American cities for a look at the rewards and deficits of prom night, 1961.

sister comes down the steps in a white formal and her parents realize their daughter is turning into a lovely young woman.

It is also the night when the father of the house may stay up all night playing wailer to his children and their friends. It is a night when 18-year-old boys can spend $50 and upwards showing their girls a good time and when the girls who didn't get dates cry themselves to sleep. Too often, prom night can end in tragedy on the roads or in community shame over youthful high jinks which suddenly ceased to be funny.

Most school principals and parents questioned in a United Press International spot check appeared ill at ease at 70 miles an hour. Six to be well satisfied with prom night in their towns.

But in the Chicago suburb of Hinsdale, Ill., high school teachers in March, affecting 99 high schools in 10 counties in New York City and the state, which included most objections to proms.

The directive urged that such events be held on school or church premises and be informal; that reasonable curfews be set by school authorities and parents along with proper supervision; that expenses be kept to a minimum, consistent with the circumstances of the entire student body; that the term "prom" be avoided; and that the reasons for the regulations be explained to students and parents.

Most school principals said it was the parents' job to see that their children stayed in line after the prom. In many communities, the fathers and mothers were apparently ready to drive themselves to the brink of exhaustion to meet this responsibility.

The Money

The marathon train ride from Park Forest was dutifully chaperoned by the fathers of the town.

At Wapello, Iowa, the parents put on a variety show to amuse their children. Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Clinton, Iowa, agreed to park the high school kids' cars.

The majority of parents also weren't complaining about what the proms were doing to their bank accounts.

After the prom tickets, formal, tuxedos, and corsages were paid for, many teen-age couples expected to have enough money left to cut a swathe in the local night clubs.

At Chicago's Senn High School, many of the boys planned on spending $50 after the dance was over. A Senn faculty prom adviser said "we can't stop that. It's up to the parents and most of the parents just seem to give in to their children."

Like Christmas, prom night comes only once a year and most of the educators were inclined to be tolerant.

"For most students, it's the first chance they've ever had to stay up all night," said Evanston, Ill., faculty adviser Potter. "And by heck, they're going to."

Tragedy of South Isn't In Headlines

It's the Changes Taking Place Within Its People's Hearts

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The tragedy of the so-called "freedom riders" is not written in the headlines or in the news dispatches about the riots in the south or in the television presentations in which Negro preachers utter slogans of defiance and southern officials insist on the law as they see it.

The real story is in the hearts of men and women, Negroes and whites, as a profound change between the two groups.

Letters from people in the south tell of the sad results of agitation — the steady attrition of the good feeling that has hitherto prevailed and the sudden rise of antagonism and hostility.

Imprint on Lives
It is all very well to theorize about the decades of discrimination involved in segregation practices, but attempts to change social customs by incitement to violence cannot but leave a regrettable imprint on the lives of people who must continue to live in those same communities.

Oddly enough, the country is witnessing the curious behavior of some demonstrators who happen to be studying for the ministry or are already ordained ministers. They move in the forefront of the "freedom rider" activities or declaim in near-by pulpits. In terms of bitterness they exhort the Negro populace to take so-called measures of "non-violence." It is strange to hear the vocabulary of combat and coercion being used by men who, it might be thought, would be teaching by example the doctrines of love and reconciliation which Jesus sought to convey in the plea: "Love thine enemy."

The New York Times, in an editorial, touches on a phase of the same paradox. After declaring that the "freedom riders" have won a "victory" which "most Americans will applaud," the editorial adds significantly:

Logical Contradiction
"All the same, it looks as if this victory can be diminished, or nullified, if the agitators press on through an inflamed atmosphere. They are challenging not only long-held customs, but passionately held feelings. Non-violence that deliberately provokes violence is a logical contradiction."

What is the "non-violence" tactic that produces outbursts of violence? One elderly woman, who is a keen observer, writes from Atlanta, Ga., to this correspondent as follows:

"I shan't attempt to argue the merits or demerits of segregation. What has been upsetting me is what is happening to us. Take me, and I am only one of hundreds of thousands of southerners — and we are all alike. I was brought up to feel quite deeply that courtesy to others was an obligation to myself, and the fact that some of those others might not be so fortunate as I only deepened the obligation.

Stranger's Face
"The sort of thing which is heralded now as 'racial prejudice' simply never occurred to us. A black face was the face of a friend, and if the friend stood in need of help — it was our responsibility to offer that help.

"A black face today, however, is not what it was a few years ago. It is the face of a stranger — and behind it who knows what is going on? We have learned what furious, impotent rage is, and the miracle is that the south has exercised, and still is exercising, the control that it has.

"The best method of learning is the trolley. There you can quickly learn just how angry a human being can get — and although you are not yourself the sort of person who goes berserk, you can understand the one who does.

"There are many other places, and times, but let me try to make you see what is a daily, hourly occurrence. You wait at the stop for the trolley. As it slows, Negroes — with only the barest difference between a 'push' and a 'shove' — brush you aside in clumsy haste to show their equality by getting on ahead of you. When you get on, there is a Negro on each seat, all down both sides, and every Negro bursting with zeal, their eyes glimmering, a grin on each face as they wait for your move.

Snide Remarks
You stand — after all, it's a free country and the law which says they can sit by you hasn't yet said that you have to sit by them. Then it starts. The snickers, the snide remarks across the aisle or to the opposite end of the car. And every one of them aimed at you. On and on and on. How much of it can you take? Various provocative remarks

10 Guidelines Listed for Picking Good Nursing Home

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. is not surprising. There are more and more old people in our population. More people are reaching the full age that nature intended. But because of many things, some injury or weakness, apartment or small-home living that does not permit caring for another person, the need of trained medical or nursing care at frequent and unpredictable intervals — all these are bound up in the rising need for nursing and convalescent homes. Good ones! How to choose the right home a is a question that should not be answered blindly.

I could write a book about the various aspects involved. But to day you may find it more useful if I offer you a check-list of major items to consider.
Basis For Decision
This list doesn't cover every thing, by any means, but it's a basis for decision:
1 — The home should be operated by someone trained in the field of medical care — not necessarily a physician, of course, but someone with formal training and unpredictable intervals in the field of medical care.
2 — Local and state departments of health should have approved the home. If not — there's a reason! Their inspections aren't requirements fulfilled.

3 — It should be clean and with pleasant surroundings.
4 — There should be adequate nursing personnel — 24 hours a day, and seven days a week.
5 — There should be a program of recreation or diversion, conducted by someone who knows how to do it, and likes doing it. It requires both: A willing leader and a trained leader.
6 — Daily menus should be available, on the premises, with patient to be housed with others of similar physical and mental condition.
7 — Physical therapy should be available for you to see. Food but if you check into these 10, you won't go far wrong in choosing a place where your loved one will be happy and taken care of well.
What are Adhesions
"Dear Dr. Molner What causes adhesions? What can be done to relieve this condition?" — Mrs. M.M.
An adhesion is a scar between adjacent coils of the intestine, or between them and the abdominal wall. Inflammation can cause it. Sometimes it is a result of an operation. (Early ambulation, getting the patient up as soon as possible, and moving about, appears to minimize this problem after surgery.) Some people form adhesions more readily than others.

Informal Touch Marks Senate Wives' Luncheon

BY ELLEN PROXMIER
Time was when a trip to the White House for a luncheon or reception meant serious study of protocol for those invited. There was concern about whether to arrive five minutes early or five minutes late, whether to wear long or short white gloves, hat or no hat and even what to say to your hostess, the First Lady. The new family in the White House has brought with it a new attitude toward entertaining, and much that was a

"must" in the past is now relegated to dusty etiquette books. The annual White House luncheon for wives of sitting and former Senators is a case in point. All 115 of us looked forward with anticipation to seeing the First Lady again and to what we knew would be a very special occasion.

Greeting for Each
Instead of arriving at the more formal Pennsylvania Avenue entrance we entered at the southwest gate and could enjoy the expanse of lawn, the fountains and the curved walk on our way in. After sherry in the East Room, Mrs. Kennedy greeted her guests in the Blue Room. She had a comment for each of us and I am sure felt fortunate to have been a Senate wife for eight years—first names came easily for this reason. I remarked that she and I had sat together two years ago when Mrs. Eisenhower entertained us and how far away 1959 seemed then. What dramatic changes have since taken place!

There were thirteen tables in the State Dining Room. We had each drawn a number out of a silver bowl for seating and as Mrs. Kennedy came into the room the first change in protocol was noticed. Instead of a formal head table, the eight wives who had chosen table 8 were the ones to lunch with Mrs. Kennedy. A cabinet wife acted as hostess at each of the other tables.

Engraved Menu Cards
Spring and a light touch were evident in both the decor and the menu. The magnificent green and gold State Dining Room was sparkling with white table cloths, green and gold china and centerpieces of yellow and white shasta daisies. The engraved menu card at each place (which we could take home as souvenirs) told us that we were

This Silver Tea Set, termed by historians as one of the most elaborate fashioned by Paul Revere, is being loaned to the White House for six months by Minneapolis Institute of Arts. The set, designed and made in 1792-93, was presented to the institute by the late James Ford Bell of Minneapolis.

to have cold lobster, capon, tiny browned potatoes, green beans and almonds, rolls, pineapple sherbert and cookies. Mrs. Kennedy wore a pale yellow wool suit which fitted perfectly into the color scheme.

Demitasse was served in the Blue Room after lunch and guests then had an opportunity to visit with each other and to bid farewell to their hostess.

Return to Work
It was a brief visit to a lovely fairland for all of us. Though informality was evident in the many hatless heads and the loose bouquets of spring flowers everywhere, the occasion was elegant and memorable. We headed back into the workaday world with schedules to plan, airplanes to meet, constituents to satisfy, and dinners for our families to plan and cook that evening, pleased at the "new look" in the White House and refreshed by a charming repite.

Jackie's Paris Visit Sure To Affect Fall Fashions

BY NADEANE WALKER
PARIS AP—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's visit to Paris is sure to have a strong effect on the fall and winter collections that French fashion houses already are readying for showings in July. Paris designers are always sensitive to outside influences, although normally a bit condescending about American dress. They make a willing and enthusiastic exception in Mrs. Kennedy's case, partly because they have already adopted her as French. Local newspapers and women's magazines have published lyrical tributes to "Jackie", sure that the admiration is mutual. They ungrudgingly praise her elegance and taste.

Private Showing
The fashion houses are expected to offer her a private, combined showing of their top models at her apartment in the foreign ministry.

Givenchy, who in the past has designed some gowns for Mrs. Kennedy, is doing no boasting. Press curiosity is firmly discouraged, and the White House has denied that Mrs. Kennedy is at present buying any clothes from Paris.

The New York Women's Wear Daily recently reported a Paris fashion house was discreetly forwarding gowns for Mrs. Kennedy to a fictitious but pre-arranged name in Washington. White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the story was "rot."

The "Jackie style" of almost severe simplicity in dresses and simple little hats is fine by the Paris fashion houses.

Furriers Suffering
However, the furriers and jewelers are suffering some pangs because Mrs. Kennedy prefers cloth coats and is shy on jeweled ornamentation.

The First Lady's liking for short skirts and plain, semi-fitted silhouettes is sure to make a mark on what the designers are dreaming up for fall. Her choice of colors (white is a favorite) and materials will be faithfully noted and acted on.

The French consider that Jacqueline Kennedy's fashion taste was probably formed in her Sorbonne student days in Paris, and whatever she wears usually meets their approval. If she were given to eccentricities, she could undoubtedly launch new trends in a twinkling.

The designers always give names to their new models at the fashion openings. This time fashion editors confidently expect

Fourth Century B. C. and Today — Classical Greek Furniture

That the Greeks had a way of the colors on the furniture and designing timeless furniture is also for draperies?" strikingly proved by an exhibition that opened just a few days ago in the galleries of the Louvre, Athens, in Athens. Although forms, construction and fabric designs all are recreated from what remains of sculpture, vase paintings and fragments of furniture of the sixth to fourth centuries B.C., the furniture in the exhibition looks ready for use today.

This time, instead of a foreign designer coming to us, one of our greatest designers, T. H. Robsjohn-Gibbings, was called upon to lend his scholarly talents to an important foreign assignment. The furniture he recreated accurately duplicates classical Greek designs in their entirety for the first time in modern history. An example is the sketched chair and fourth century has relief it was taken from. The gracefully rounded chair back, since it has so many current versions, suggests that what we like now has been good for a very long time. Tables in the collection have walnut tops, and table legs cast in bronze may have been early, early ancestors of today's beautifully wrought metal furniture.

Mrs. H. M. "We painted the walls and ceiling aqua in our 12-foot square bedroom, bought an aqua rug and maple furniture. What do you think of gold or orange for coverlets and dust ruffles? The windows are long and high on the wall. Should the curtains match the walls or the dust ruffles? What color should pillows be on the bed?"

Especially since gold and orange so sharply contrasts with aqua, and even the maple furniture will stand out very definitely against it, it's better to keep the beds in the same aqua and save the gold or orange for accent. The blending color will avoid an over-large and room-filling look that the beds might have if they were gold or orange, and the room will look larger. You could use a light pattern in contrasting colors on the bed, and repeat colors for the pillows. Curtains are best blended into the wall, so the aqua or patterned-on-aqua fabric is right for them.

Mrs. R.M. "Is my 16 x 14 living room too small for quilted home, his activities won't be hinged on a new sofa and regular check-ups of aging pets by the veterinarian can often spare the master the sorrow of seeing his friend affected or prematurely parted from him.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. I have noticed recently that my nine-year-old cat doesn't see as well as before. He has a cloudy pupil in one eye and the iris is a darker color with a rusty coloring on the outside edge. What can be done to correct this eye? Mrs. C. A. Luttrapp, Almira, Wash.

A. Eye troubles are one of the sorrows of advancing age, and often tragic in that many cases go untreated until too late. The symptoms described here are often seen in older animals, though the incidence is not as high in cats as in other animals, and can be caused by many things. If the eye has been impaired for any length of time, I doubt if drugs alone will correct the condition. Surgery may be necessary. If your cat stays close to home, his activities won't be hinged on a new sofa and regular check-ups of aging pets by the veterinarian can often spare the master the sorrow of seeing his friend affected or prematurely parted from him.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Good sandman habits can be formed early if you make the bed of not a pleasant place to visit. If you set the same hour and be reasonably firm in sticking to it, baby will accept this routine. Then see to it that baby has a dry bottom, a full tummy and a favorite cuddle toy (if he's old enough). The lilt of a lullabying or sweet mother talk will usually turn a wide-awake into a sleepyhead.

Easy does it! If baby's mealtime is pleasant and relaxed, there's no doubt that baby will enjoy his food more. And that very enjoyment will make him want to eat more. Best way I know to start off a meal: substitute grin for grim.

Pleasant mealtimes are practically assured when you serve food to baby's liking. Gerber Cereals, for example, are made to please a tiny palate. Each variety has a mild but distinctive flavor... all have the dreamy smooth texture that inspires smiles. (And they stir to creamy perfection in seconds.) What about nutrition? Gerber Cereals give your baby blood - building iron, energy-giving calories, important B-vitamins, and bone-building calcium. What baby wouldn't thrive on such nutritional fare?

Good feeding strategy when introducing new foods: It's a good idea to offer only one at a time and wait a few days before trying another. Give baby a chance to get used to the new flavor.

Your heir or heiress will "lick the platter clean" when his bill of fare features Gerber Strained Foods. Why? Because the flavors are fresh-tasting and mild, the texture smooth, moist and marvelous-to-the-tongue. Over 50 tempting varieties, all designed with appetite appeal in mind. Serve one and all to the tune of blissful coos. Rotate foods for guaranteed meal appeal. Has baby tried the new Strained Ham, yet? Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Ann Has No Words to Describe Daughter-in-Law's Behavior

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter-in-law writes us a letter about once every four months. Usually it's to say thanks for a gift.

Several weeks ago I wrote and asked her to please send us some snapshots of our three grandchildren. They are beautiful youngsters and since she refuses to bring them here to visit (too much trouble) we'd like to show our friends what the children look like in a few days.

This morning the snapshots arrived with this note: "Please husband announced the good

DEAR ANN LANDERS: After seven years of trying to have a family we decided to put our names in for an adopted child. Last week the agency called and told us that our baby had been found. Sunday we attended a family dinner at mother's home and arrived with this note: "Please husband announced the good

SEAMS TO ME

By Patricia Scott

Plan Your Wardrobe

Many women make or buy a new wardrobe without giving any thought to their way of life. This is a mistake. Your wardrobe must be in keeping with your activities. It should not be just a slap bang choice of pretty things you like, things that may hang in your closet because you have no place to wear them.

Pat Scott

A wardrobe should at least be planned as intelligently as a grocery list. If you're on a budget, how much can you spend? As a new season approaches, do you weed out clothes you no longer want, before going on a shopping spree? Do you itemize your needs according to your activities before shopping for fabrics and patterns, and then stick to them?

Do you avoid going overboard on new fads that will look dated next year? Do you buy good fabrics and accessories that give you a smaller but fine wardrobe, or do you have a huge motley assortment of cheaper clothes? Ask yourself these questions, and if you've goofed in the past, consider them for the coming season.

Another common mistake is in choice of colors. If six new fashion colors are shown, all necessitating different accessories, for heaven's sake don't make one of each color. Choose two or three dominating colors each season, plus basic black, grey and beige. You'll only need limited accessories for the various garments in the new shades and you'll probably be able to wear them with most of your basics. One set of black will take care of the rest.

Make the type of clothes you need, and will wear. For instance, if you are a housewife and mother living in the suburbs, you'd have trouble finding much of anything you could use in my closet.

Take these three types of women and consider, seriously, if they could all do with the identical wardrobe. First, a career woman (married or single) with an important job, in a large city. Both she and her husband, if she is married, must entertain a great deal at home and out. She spends five days a week in an office, requiring her to look chic and elegant at all times, and she cannot repeat an outfit for at least one week.

The second type lives in a large city, too, but she is a housewife and mother. Her activities, outside of marketing and caring for her home and children, are probably occasional luncheons, theater matinees, club meetings. At times her husband asks her to join him in entertaining clients or they may have a dinner party at home.

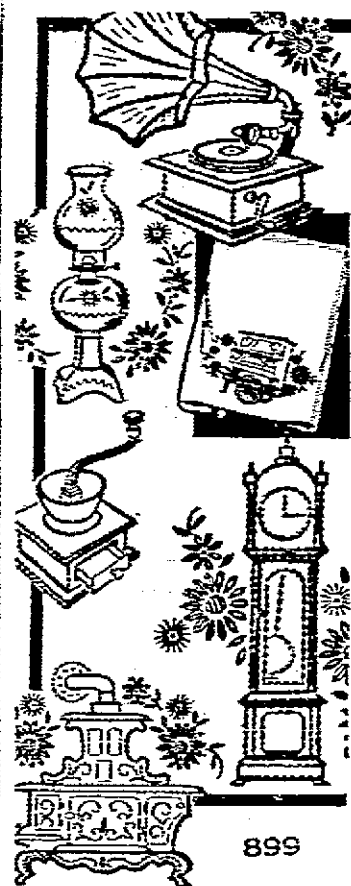

The third, also a housewife and mother, lives in a small town or in the suburbs of a city. Her activities are much like those of the second type, but her luncheons are less formal. Her evening activities revolve around friends' homes and the country club most of the time. This is usually described as casual living.

Do you think type two and three need as many cocktail and evening dresses as type one, not to mention the numerous office clothes? How much use would type one have for the sweaters, shirts, blouses, sunback dresses and Bermuda shorts the others live in?

Of course, there are still other types, but these can be considered the basic three. Be smart this season. Don't load your closet with excess baggage. If you want to cheer yourself up by buying something silly now or then, fine, but don't make these whims the bulk of your wardrobe. Instead, make them the icing on the cake.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in

Just Play Your Suit Naturally

The experienced player usually knows the best way to play a suit without having to think much about it. Unusual combinations of cards take more thought.

of anything better to do. You cannot gain by discarding from the South hand, so you ruff with the deuce of spades.

But now how do you play the trumps? You can afford to lose only one trick.

It will do you no good to catch a doubleton K-Q, since the other opponent will then have 10-8-7 of trumps. You will surely lose two trump tricks if the suit breaks that way. A singleton king or queen of trumps would be even worse.

Play in Hope
You can limit the trump loss to one trick only if West has the doubleton K-10 or Q-10 of trumps. You must play in the hope that West has one of these trump holdings.

Begin by leading the three of trumps toward dummy.

West cannot afford to play the ten, for then dummy's jack will force out East's high trump. Later, South will play the ace to capture West's high trump.

Girl Scout and Brownie Troops of Banta Elementary School, Menasha, planted yellow forsythia bushes at the school recently in commemoration of 50 years of scouting. From left are Alice Feit, Scout Troop 235, and Roberta Rogers and Christine Cross, Brownie Troop 377.

South's nine of trumps will be good, and will draw East's last trump.

However, it does West no good to step up immediately with his high trump. Declarer will later get to dummy and lead the jack of spades for a finesse. This will capture East's high trump and the ten at the same time.

Parents Must Assume Responsibility of Party

BY ANGELO PATRI

This is the season for parties; graduation, wedding, bon voyage, any occasion will do for the young people who, quite naturally, love a party. The food served is for the young ones who are forever hungry, the heart of the party and with food there must be drinks and there, unless the hostess is careful, lies trouble.

Some of the young people have come to believe that a party is no party without liquor of some sort and usually punch or cocktails. Now youth at a party is heady enough, thrilled by excitement enough, to have no need of a stimulant. Youth needs none.

Expect it. "But," says a troubled hostess, "They want it. They expect it. What can one do?" My daughter says it isn't a party without the "drinks." Just say no drinks and abide by that. Make a fruit drink, a punch bowl filled with mixed fruit juices, as pretty a concoction as ever anybody served and as tasty—and quite harmless.

Not Easy

One imperative reason among others is that the young people are driving cars. Nobody today questions the fact that drinking and driving are two separate and distinct activities and must be kept so in the protection of life and limb. It is difficult to persuade young people of this, once they decide that drink is just fine, a proof of adulthood, of bigness and all that. It is difficult to persuade one who thinks this way that he is trying to build himself up and is taking the stupid way of doing it. That leaves the responsibility on the host and hostess.

It is not easy for loving parents to make an issue of such a seeming trifle as the refreshments for a party but a look ahead can show them why they should be firm about this matter. If a careful of young people leaves the house after drinking hard liquor and ends up in the hospital, whose is the responsibility then?

Hosts and hostesses are responsible for the young people in their houses. They do not know which of the young ones is susceptible to the influence of strong drink, boy or girl. It may be the first such drink this child of another family ever had and it may work mischief. That is one of the grave responsibilities this situation offers. Isn't it better to say "no hard drinks for you young people," and stick to it at party time?

Dessert Treat

Add a little lemon juice to is beaten stiff and sweetened served cooked dried apricots and with confectioners' sugar. Serve fold into an egg white or two that the whip over sponge cake.

Wills Discussed At Lions Meeting

The necessity of everyone having a will was discussed by Atty. Harry Hoefel at the Monday noon meeting of Appleton Lions Club at Conway Hotel.

"Everyone should have a will, particularly married men with children. Often it's more important for a person with a small estate to have a will than it is for a person with a large estate," Hoefel said.

The attorney reviewed the wisdom of both husband and wife having their property in joint tenancy.

"It is the consensus of lawyers and tax experts that in many instances husbands and wives should not overdo in putting property in joint tenancy," Hoefel warned.

Old High School Valued At $142,000

Caused No Trouble

Negroes Ordered From Appleton Bar

Two Negro ballplayers told Appleton police early this morning that an Appleton bartender ordered them out of his tavern with a blackjack in his hand. They were not struck.

The Negroes said the man behind the bar began yelling at them to get out as soon as they walked in. They told police they were unaware the bartender was yelling at them until he came around the bar with the blackjack. Then they left, they said.

The bartender this morning admitted sending them out. When asked by a reporter if they were causing trouble, he replied:

"No. I just told them to get out, that's all. There are so damn many Jamaicans and that hanging around. I didn't know if they were ballplayers or what."

"They're only here three or four months of the year. This business is my bread and butter. If you and your wife were sitting there . . . We'll, it's going to ruin my business."

Both Negroes told police the bartender only had to ask and they would have left. Police had not questioned the bartender at noon today.

No complaint has been made to Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer.

Hearing Opens On Celebrated Bank Issue

OSHKOSH — A value of $142,000 was placed upon the old Menasha High School site, also known as Racine Street Park, by R. C. Herman, Manitowoc city assessor, and a private appraiser, as the celebrated park-bank transfer case opened today before Circuit Judge H. F. Arps.

Herman valued the present First National Bank building in Menasha's Main Street at $58,300, if used for banking purposes, or $43,000, if used for other commercial purposes. He explained the difference was because a second floor would have to be built joining the two present mezzanine sections of the bank building. One is at the front, the other at the rear.

Only Witness

Feb. 16, 1960, the Menasha City Council agreed to sell the 11-lot old high school site to the bank for $57,000 and to buy from the bank its present building for $39,500. The present bank adjoins the city offices.

Former Mayor John R. Scanlon brought a taxpayer's suit to void the sale. His case is now in progress before Judge Arps.

Herman was the only witness testifying at this morning's opening session. He explained the $142,400 value was for use of the land for commercial purposes. Herman said he gave a $1.65 per square foot value, since the land was largely devoid of buildings.

Studies Sales

The Manitowoc assessor, who has done considerable work in private appraisals and directed reassessments for numerous communities, said he had studied sales of other commercial property in Menasha to arrive at a figure for the park land valuation.

Other sales studied were those of Orville Schillhabel Grocery, Lawrence Driscoll, purchase of a house; the F. J. Hauser purchase of a house and the Brighte-wash Co. purchase of a house, fifth 1961 traffic fatality. The last removed to permit construction of a coin-operated laundry.

Herman admitted the grocery store purchase was "several blocks away" on State 47, but that the other three purchases were in the immediate vicinity of the park, on Racine Street between First and Second. He said he did not use in determining the value, purchases of three sites for filling stations, also in the immediate area.

Herman said in cross-examination that there are few store vacancies in Menasha and that according to the state tax department, retail business in Menasha has been increasing.

He did not think the $49,500 price to be paid by the city for

Nation Needs Moral Fiber, Berken Says

Past State Legion Commander Talks At Little Chute

LITTLE CHUTE — America needs the moral fiber to stand up and face the world problems of today, past state department American Legion Commander Lloyd Berken of Appleton told the Memorial Day gathering here Tuesday.

"Freedom loving people throughout the world are looking to America for leadership," Berken said, "but the United States is not carrying through in the cause."

The cold war is a test to see if America really means what she says, Berken claimed, but so far "we have let the people of Hungary down, not done what we promised for Laos and blundered badly in Cuba."

Take Advantage

Berken asked, "Where was the American know-how in the invasion of Cuba and how did we let one man take such advantage of us and set up his own dictatorship?"

"Many men died because of our carelessness with the Cuban situation and now we are trying to buy back those that are left by trading equipment for humans." That is the same as years ago when America had slave trading, the past state Legion chief said.

"Our guard is down right now," Berken said, "and the moral fiber that was the backbone of our country in the first and second world wars is lacking. We must strengthen ourselves for the cause of freedom so that we will no longer be able to hear the voice of departed comrades calling 'Wake Up, America.'"

Gives Invocation

The memorial ceremonies were conducted on a platform on the cemetery grounds. After the introduction of guests, the invocation was given by the Rev. Martin Vosbeek, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church and the Legion prayer was read by Ray Reiter, post chaplain.

"Sleep Soldier Sleep" was sung by the Kaukauna - Little Chute SPEBSQSA Chapter and taps followed a salute by the post firing squad.

Francis Heesakker, post commander, was master of ceremonies for the program.

Baby Albino Robin Killed at Winneconne

WINNECONNE — A baby albino robin was spotted about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Ernest Erban yard on S. First Avenue.

The bird was killed later when it wandered into the street and was run over by a car.

Mrs. Erban said the bird was fully feathered but could not fly. She said it was completely white. The mother bird was a normal colored robin and had been feeding the albino.

Two Kimberly Scouts Given Eagle Awards

KIMBERLY — Presentation of Eagle awards to Steve Meyer and Darrel Rimmel highlighted a court of honor of Troop 102 of the Kimberly Presbyterian Church Boy Scouts.

Meyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Meyer and Rimmel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rimmel. Jerry Schultz became a Star Scout and Charles Meyer became a Life Scout.

Awards were presented by Howard Meyer, scoutmaster, and the Eagle Trail was presented by Robert Rimmel and Robert Davidson. Dwight Donelson, scout executive, spoke briefly. Lewis Cattanaach was general chairman.

Teacher Gets $30,000 Grant to Study Lake

Lawrence Professor Begins Program on Water Organisms

A grant of close to $30,000 has come to Lawrence College as assistant professor of biology Sumner Richman from the National Science Foundation to finance a study of Lake Winnebago organisms.

Richman will embark immediately upon a four-year program of basic research into the transformation of energy by "Cladocera" and "Copepoda," seeking information on the efficiency of primary consumer organisms in an aquatic ecological food chain.

Purchase Boat

Helping Richman this summer will be two student assistants financed by the $28,400 grant, junior biology majors James Jordan, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., and Jay Tibbets, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tibbets, 1904 N. Appleton St., Appleton. There are to be student assistants throughout the period of the grant.

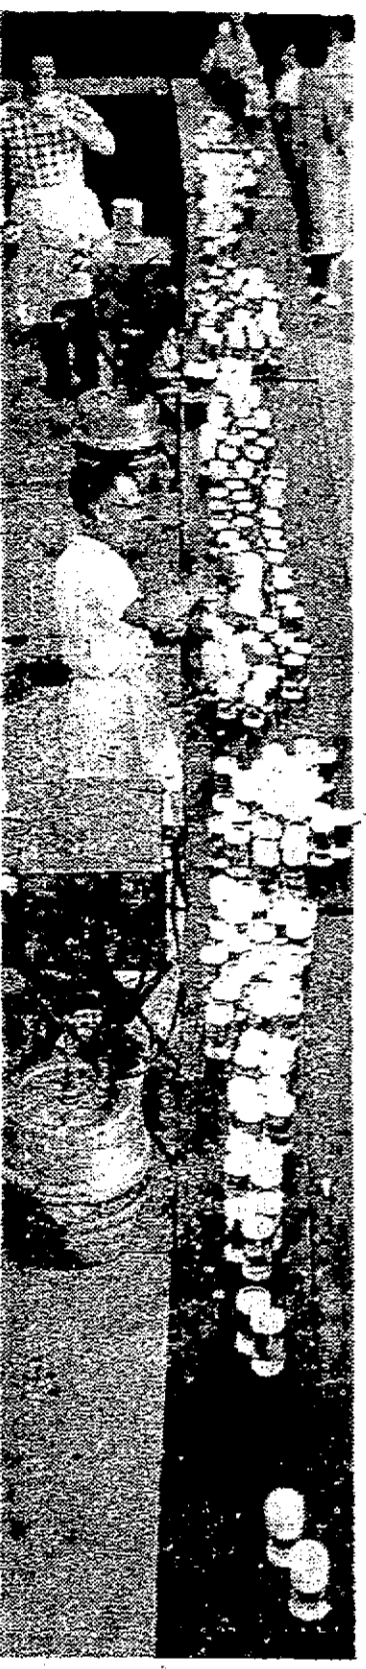

For research purposes a 14-foot aluminum boat, complete with trailer and motor, has been added to the biology department equipment. Also new is Warburg apparatus to measure oxygen consumption in microorganisms and another constant temperature box, plus additional equipment for making radioactive isotope measurements.

The planktonic organisms to be studied are at the primary consumer level. They consume directly the primary producers, plants which convert solar energy into themselves, in this case planktonic forms such as algae.

Richman will be measuring, over a four-year cycle, the efficiency of these organisms in converting the food they consume into energy. This will involve measurement, in caloric units, of the energy content of the plant life consumed, using a microbomb calorimeter at the University of Michigan which was developed there earlier by Richman and L. B. Slobokin.

The researchers will then measure, using radioactive algae, the quantity of food consumed by the plankton in a certain length of time. After further calculation of respiration, growth, and reproduction of the plankton, they will be able to calculate how efficiently energy has been transferred from food to feeder.

Legion Officials Present

Memorial Program in Little Chute Attracts Over 7,000 Observers

LITTLE CHUTE — An hour before parade time hundreds of people began to gather at choice locations and vantage spots to witness the annual Memorial Day observance here.

The Little Chute memorial program has been recognized by the American Legion as one of the outstanding ceremonies in the state and nation. Last year the national Legion magazine carried a special feature about the observance.

Police estimated the throng at between 7,000 and 8,000. Getting an accurate count was difficult because observers were spread along the parade route.

The parade crowd was one of the most well behaved that police have seen since the Memorial Day ceremonies began to draw so many observers from other communities.

400 In Uniform

About 400 men in uniform marched in the parade. Other units included the Community Band, Dutch Girls Drum and Bugle Corps, Little Chute Twirling Corps, Boy, Girl and Cub Scouts, American Legion Junior Auxiliary, gold star parents and visiting guests.

Some of the Legion officials present included Mrs. Edward Arndt, Ninth District auxiliary commander; B. H. Nimmer, Sixth District commander, and Allan Gunderson, Outagamie County commander-elect.

The memorial observance, which has run into wet weather the last several years, was held under ideal conditions. Some of the veterans had to march in heavy uniforms and were puffing at the end of the route.

Closing Service

After the program at the cemetery grounds the parade re-grouped and marched to American Legion Athletic Park for the closing service, which included the lowering of the flag.

Refreshments were served to the veterans at a long bar set up near the municipal building at the athletic field.

After the parade, many parents disappeared from the business district to take youngsters home and tuck them safely in bed.

Speaker at the Little Chute Memorial Day ceremonies was Lloyd Berken, Appleton, past state department commander of the American Legion. Berken addressed the crowd from a platform on the cemetery grounds.

Rev. Hansen to Speak at NHS Baccalaureate

NEENAH — The Rev. Donald T. Hansen, Our Savior Lutheran Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Neenah High School at 8 p.m. Sunday in the new gymnasium.

Daniel Smith, music instructor at Lawrence College, will play the processional. The Rev. Aart K. Van Dam, Whiting Memorial Baptist Church, will deliver the invocation and benediction.

The high school choir, under the direction of Miss Ruth Roper, will sing Handel's "Largo" and "Go Down Moses," a spiritual.

Menasha Legion Post, Auxiliary to Hold Joint Installations

MENASHA — Lenz - Gazecki Post 152, American Legion, and its auxiliary, will hold joint installations of officers at 6:30 p.m. Thursday dinner meeting in the clubrooms at 41 Tayco St.

Arnold Sewall will be installed as post commander, succeeding Richard J. Steffens. Mrs. Erwin Becker will be installed as auxiliary president, succeeding Mrs. Edward Zielinski.

Reservations must be made with Mrs. John Scanlon by Monday.

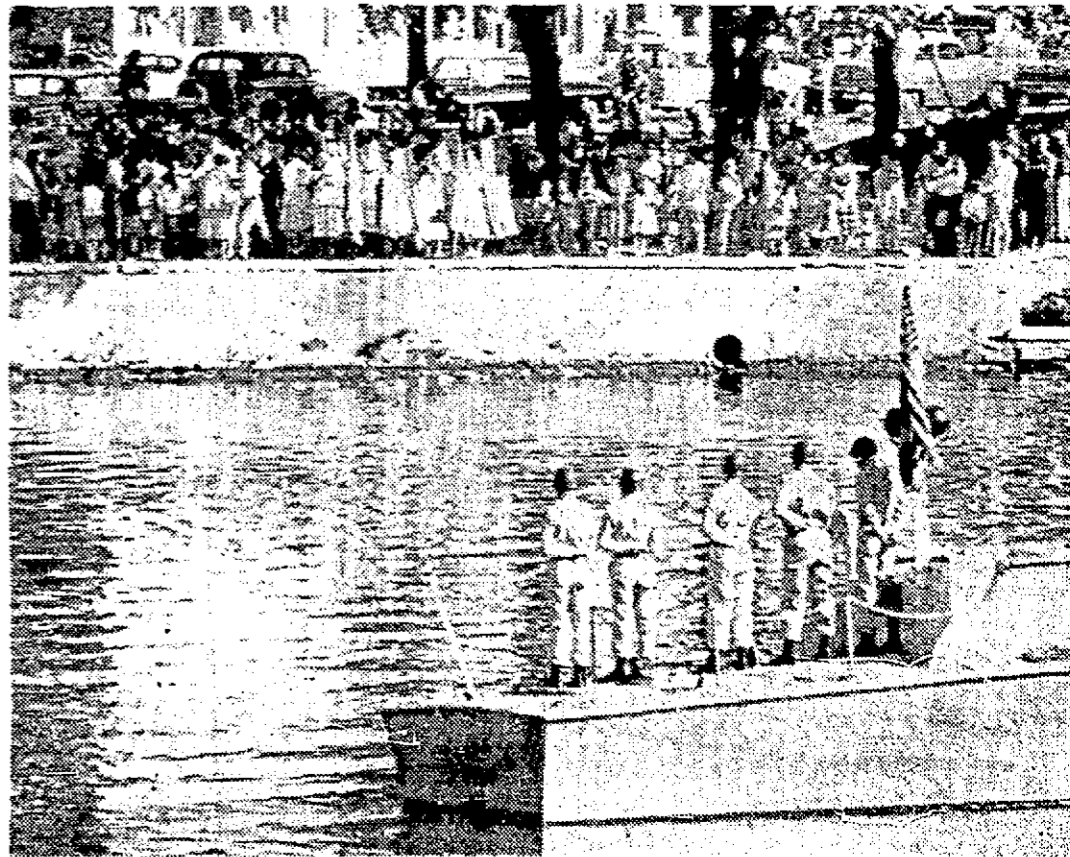

Burglary Reported At Huntley School

HUNTLEY SCHOOL, 2224 N. Ullman St., was entered sometime after school closed Monday.

A stone had been placed in the entrance of a door. Appleton police said. Nothing was missing.

The Neenah-Menasha Boys' Brigade Drum and Bugle Corps leads the 600 Brigade members who marched in the Memorial Day Parade through Menasha and Neenah to Oak Hill Cemetery. The mile-long parade was one of the longest in Twin City history.

Appleton Honors Dead With Parade, Program

Past State Legion Commander Gives Tribute at Riverside Cemetery Rites

Memorial Day was observed in Appleton Tuesday with marching, music, speeches and honoring those who died for their country during the wars of the last century.

Speaking at the Memorial Day program at Riverside Cemetery, James Martineau, Oconto, paid tribute to those who died in defense of the country. Martineau is past commander of the state American Legion and a member of the Wisconsin Veterans Board.

"After almost a century of Memorial days, the things we say here often become true. But we must realize that this day has a special meaning for those who lost a loved one for the sake of this great country," Martineau said.

Telling his speech "Our Debt to Those Who Died for Us," Martineau emphasized the need to pay tribute to the many thousands of men and women who have served in the armed forces.

"Very often we pay tribute to the dead, then forget the living," he said.

Presiding at the program was Mayor Clarence Mitchell of Appleton. Harold Weiland was program chairman. Following the National Anthem played by the city band, Edward Sager of Madison Junior High led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Recites Orders
Michael Flanagan, Xavier High, recited Logan's orders setting Memorial Day as a day of national tribute. The Rev. Robert Vandenberg, St. Therese Catholic Church, gave the invocation. Dave Prosser, Appleton High School, gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The Appleton High School octet sang "To Thee, Oh Country," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

During the singing, flower girls from the city's junior highs scattered flowers on the graves of Civil War veterans.

Susan Jarrett and Susan Span-ed a wreath on the cross. Tribute to the dead was paid by the Rev. John B. Seidler, St. John United Church of Christ.

After the benediction by the Rev. Vandenberg, the National Guard firing squad gave a rifle salute, followed by "Taps."

Crowds Watch
Bright sunshine welcomed the crowds lining College Avenue to watch the parade.

Led by a color guard of local armed forces recruiters, the parade included four divisions. In the line of march were the Appleton City Band, the Appleton High School Band, St. Therese School Band, the Junior Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Legion Drum and Bugle Corps and the Xavier High band.

Local military units were represented by the National Guard and Naval Reserve. Veterans organizations included the Women's Relief Corps, Gold Star Mothers, the Legion and Auxiliary, Armies and Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary. Scouts were represented by Boy, Girl, Cub Scouts, Brownies and Camp Fire Girls.

Flag Day Parade to Be June 10

Flag Day will be observed in Appleton with a 2 p.m. parade on Saturday, June 10, according to Robert Mehlberg, chairman.

Special feature of the parade will be an appearance by Uncle Sam, portrayed by Wilbur Lipman, son of the mayor.

Parade marshal is Carl Peotter. Other committee members are Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Ald. Kenneth Loos, H. P. Dixon, Gordon A. Bubolz, John Guinzus, Donald Genge, Edward Arndt, Joseph Maldari, Robert Gmeiner, Richard Malchow, Neil Brahe, Lee Atkinson, Joseph Moriarty, Wendal Whitman and Robert Lie-then.

Entries are still being received for the parade. Anyone interested may contact the mayor's office.

"Uncle Sam" is returning to Appleton after a successful appearance here last year.

The Flag Day observance, under general direction of the Appleton Elks lodge has been first nationally three times in the Elks lodge Flag Day observance competition.

Some Suggestions to Visiting Europeans

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — An open letter to any visiting European:

Dear Sir:

Naturally, under President Kennedy's plan to increase foreign tourist travel to the United States, every patriotic American welcomes you—and the funds you bring.

We all want you to have a fine time, whether you arrive loaded with pounds sterling, francs, marks or drachmas.

But, particularly, if this is your first visit here, you may feel the need of a little briefing on how to make your stay more pleasant.

Here are a few helpful hints:

First and foremost, don't buy the Brooklyn Bridge—even if the seller tenders you an apparently valid bill of sale. Local restrictions forbid the export of this particular bridge.

Remember, you are an unofficial ambassador of your own country and the people here will judge your country by how you behave. If you want to take a proud of their culture. You may find the new U.S. forms of architecture bewildering, but there is a quick way to tell the difference between a church, a supermarket, a bowling alley or a motel: You

Be sure to visit as many churches and museums as you can, as Americans are also very proud of their culture. You may find the new U.S. forms of architecture bewildering, but there is a quick way to tell the difference between a church, a supermarket, a bowling alley or a motel: You sure to use them. The residents here always feel more warm-hearted toward foreigners who make an effort, however limited, to speak to them in their own tongue.

Don't give change.

You may feel that the shopkeepers are in a conspiracy to cheat you because you have a foreign accent. This is not generally true. They may be suspicious of you, however, if you tender cash in payment. Buy properly in the installment plan—or flash a credit card. Then they'll know you're hep.

Do not show annoyance if you drop dead in sheer surprise. There are other parts where, if you don't tip 15 per cent of the bill, he may tell you to drop dead. Here you'll have to feel your own way.

But everybody likes a good spender. Spend freely. The money in the United States leads your own country later may be your own.

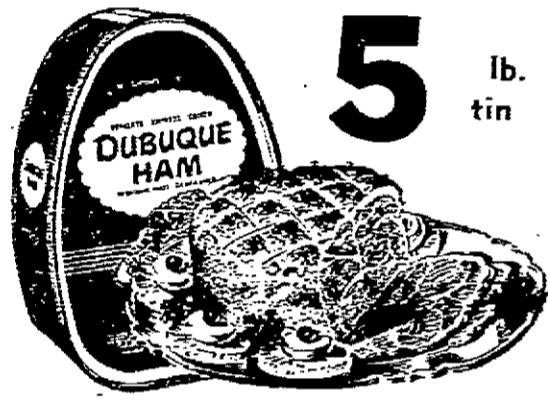

Have a wonderful stay, and drop dead in sheer surprise.

There are some parts of America where, if you leave a nickel, the waiter will come back often!

Speaker Tells 2 Purposes of Memorial Day

Kaukauna Audience Hears Commander Of District Legion

KAUKAUNA — Memorial Day has two purposes for the living. Irving Van Dyke, Ninth District commander, said Tuesday.

Besides paying tribute to departed heroes, it should serve as a challenge to the future as Americans rededicate themselves to the ideals of democracy and face the threat of Communism throughout the world with determination and conviction, he said.

Van Dyke urged convincing the world of the values of freedom and warned of the constant danger to liberty by the creeping communist doctrines. He recalled the history of past wars: "There is no second prize in war."

Warning against possible wars he favored a strong military reserve, a will to win and a firm determination of the spirit of liberty as the ways in which to resist those who would attempt to destroy the American way of life and principles of freedom.

James Lang served as officer of the day and the Rev. Roger Wentz, pastor of the Immanuel United Church of Christ, gave the invocation. Mayor Joseph Bayoregeon spoke briefly and asked for God's help in assisting Americans to spread the voice of freedom and to keep the world free for future generations.

Also appearing on the program were the Kaukauna High School band, Little Chute - Kaukauna SPEBSQSA chorus, Jerry Huss, Legion chaplain, and Jeffrey De Bruin, Karen Schouten and Karen Lindemuth, Kaukauna High School students.

Church Plans Addition

WINNECONNE — The Presbyterian church congregation has approved plans to build an $8,500 addition to the church building to house four additional Sunday School classrooms.

U. S. Government Will Auction Off Tropical Island

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you ever said to yourself that someday you'd like to buy a subtropical island, you'll have your chance June 26.

The Interior Department announced today that it would offer at public auction in New Orleans that day a 2½ acre island in the Gulf of Mexico.

Covered with palmetto, red cedar and other vegetation typical of the balmy area, the island has an elevation of six to eight feet above mean high tide.

Accessible only by boat, it is located a half mile from the west Florida coast, eight miles northwest of Crystal River.

But, bring your checkbook, bidding will start at $1,230 and the highest offer will win the island. The government has decided it has no public recreation or conservation value.

Memorial Day Parade Held at Winneconne

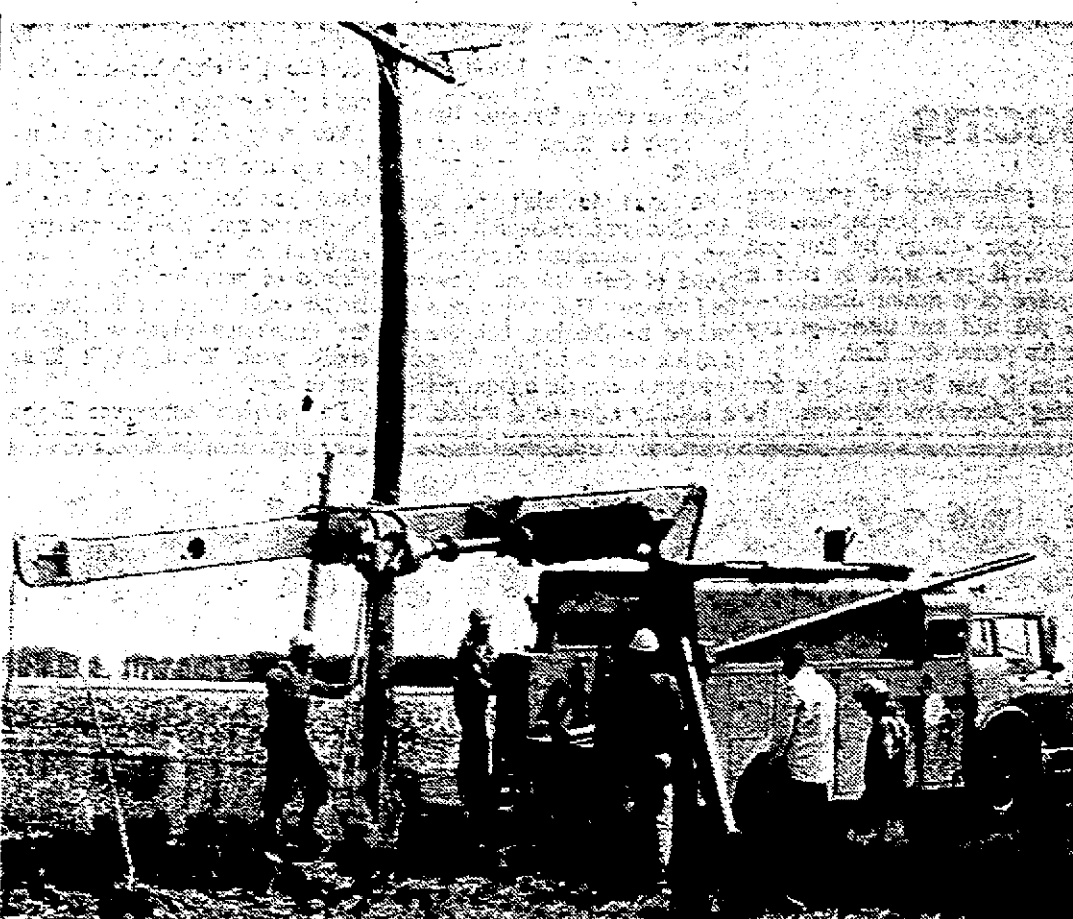

WINNECONNE — Matted colors carried by the American Legion and the Armistice drill squad led the Memorial Day parade at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Taking part were the Winneconne band, followed in automobiles by the village board, Gold Star Mothers, Women's Relief Corps and the Junior Legion Auxiliary queen, Maureen Mueller and the two princesses, Jane Rice and Marine Christensen.

Included among the paraders were the Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and Bluebirds. A brief stop for the naval ceremony at the bridge preceded the services at the cemetery where the Rev. Glenn Harms, Allenville, gave both the invocation and the benediction.

Tim Steller gave "General Logan's Orders" and John Kromm gave the "Gettysburg Address."

The ceremonies closed with the salute to the dead and "Taps." In charge of plans for the day were Herman Nimmer and Calvin Hawksworth.

Neenah Youth to Attend Boys State

NEENAH — Roger E. Timm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Timm, 921 Higgins Ave., a high school junior at Concordia academy and junior college, Milwaukee, will represent his school at Badger Boys State in Ripon June 10 to 17.

Timm will be president of his class in the college department next year. He will serve as residence hall councilman as he has for the last three years and is feature editor of the new campus paper, "The Quill." He also has been class vice president for two years and on the varsity swimming team for three years.

Power Firm Gets New Truck

Single Unit Will Replace Equipment Taking Three Crews

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., has purchased a specially engineered line truck designed to enable a single crew and vehicle to perform line jobs which formerly required two or three trucks and crews. The $21,000 truck combines a hydraulic derrick, digging unit, pole puller, stabilizing jack, outrigger and full power winch, unitizing all functions on one piece of equipment.

The hydraulic derrick replaces the standard A frame commonly used on line trucks. This corner-mounted derrick and boring machine rotates a full 360 degrees and can work all around the truck.

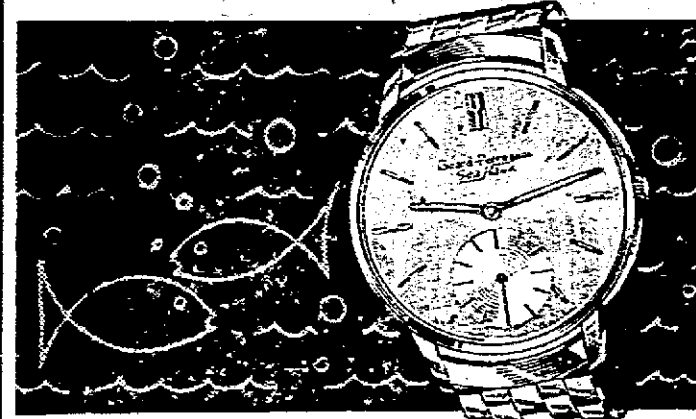

The hydraulic boom extends from a collapsed length of 15 feet to an extended length of 23 feet and can set poles up to 70 feet long. A hydraulic outrigger and hydraulic telescopic jack stabilize the truck when the boom is extended.

The hydraulic boring machine has the same maneuverability as the boom since they are integral parts, permitting one unit to do the whole job.

The truck has a 3-speed, full power, hydraulic winch. The 15,000-pound capacity winch has a level wind feature which allows it to play out and take in cable like a fishing reel.

It is the first truck in the company's fleet equipped with a hydraulic pole puller, which eliminates the need to dig a hole to free poles before they can be removed.

Crippled Plane Lands Safely

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—A crippled American airliner with 104 persons aboard—mostly women and children—today limped hundreds of miles over the Atlantic to a smooth landing here. The Superconstellation ferrying U. S. military personnel and their families from Germany to McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., was forced to turn back two hours after leaving Shannon when one of its four propellers ran wild and the pilot could not feather it. One of the aircraft escorting President Kennedy to Europe offered assistance but was not needed. A Pan American airliner in the vicinity shepherded the crippled plane to safety.

U. S. Heart Specialist Honored by Russians

BELMONT, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White says he hopes his election to membership in the Soviet Academy of Medical Sciences will help to increase communication between doctors of East and West. The world famous heart specialist, who was a consultant when former President Eisenhower suffered his attack, said last night that better relations among doctors could help achieve better relations between nations.

Assessor Testifies at Opening of Hearing the bank building was out of line with his $43,000 figure. He noted, an apparent cloud on the title and the party wall easements, which he had not studied as reasons for reducing the bank building's value. The legal description, said Herman, calls for a 40-foot frontage for the bank, yet the building is only 35 feet wide.

Assessment Records

Herman said this information was obtained from the Menasha assessment records.

The bank building, Herman said, was substantial and well maintained. He said it would cost something to remodel it for use by the city, if the city were to install a second floor. He did not think a city office structure would want the high ceilings of a bank or other financial institution.

The Manitowoc assessor said the 11 lots of the old high school site contain 87,340 square feet. While his average for the sale of the four buildings studied gave a value of $1.98 per square foot for them, he used a $1.65 per square foot price, because of the lack of buildings to be removed.

Cites Tavern Sale

He cited one downtown Menasha tavern sale, where the property sold for $13.50 per square foot. Herman added that he also noted the sale of the Old Valley Theater building on Main Street at a value of $1.99 per square foot. During cross-examination by bank attorneys, Herman, who directed the 1950 Menasha reassessment, said there could be no comparison to the 1950 residential values along Racine Street in the park area to the present commercial values. He estimated a value of $72,000, if both Racine Street corners of the old school site were used for filling stations, or $35,000 for each corner.

Eggs Lobby

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—When members of the Connecticut General Assembly took their seats the other day, each of them found an egg on his desk. The State Agriculture Department distributed the eggs not as a gag, but to promote their increased consumption.

Richard Bishop, Ann Arbor, Mich., will begin his duties as Appleton's new public health sanitarian on June 19. He will take over most of the duties of Ed Halverson, former milk sanitarian, who resigned last month. Bishop, who just received his master's degree in public health from the University of Michigan, will make other inspections for the health department, also. He has seven years' experience, plus bachelor degrees in agriculture science and agriculture engineering.

Coeds Outfloat Men In Inner Tube Race

OSHKOSH — The Lambda Chi it took 90 minutes for the inner team of Sandy Solberg, Appleton, tubes to float that far. Racers and Rosie Lambert, Green Bay, could use an umbrella to catch the wind, but they were not allowed to paddle.

Tuesday on Fox River here. They defeated three men's teams representing Sigma Tau Gamma, Clemans Hall and Philakean Fraternity.

The race began from U.S. 41 bridge across Lake Butte des Morts and ended at Rainbow Park near State 21 bridge in Oshkosh.

Though the length of the race was probably only a mile or less.

New Food Stamps For W. Virginians

WELCH, W.Va. (AP) — Needy persons in Southern West Virginia are holding their heads higher today, armed with a more dignified—if not yet proven—way of accepting federal aid to feed their families.

The first of eight pilot food stamp programs, using a form of currency that will buy only food, began this week in McDowell County in the heart of the soft coal country.

The food coupons replaced handouts of surplus food commodities which more than half the county's population had been receiving. Most of the needy are coal miners, displaced by mechanization.

On the Sigma Tau Gamma team were Douglas Merrill, Par-deville, Donald Anderson, Port Welch was a family of 15, which Washington, and Richard Kron had been without a steady income for more than a year. Anderson included Francis Lee, Berlin, and Muncy, 47, an unemployed miner, Robert Koch, Shawano. On Philakean's team were James Millard, Clintonville and James King, Brookfield, and standing in a monthly line to receive surplus food.

his auto hit the truck, police said. The entire left side of Nelson's auto was sheared off.

Police found Nelson lying on the right shoulder of the highway bleeding profusely.

The milk truck was driven by Alvin A. Hankmeier, 56, route 1, Appleton.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps has ordered an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death.

Borchardt and Moder Funeral Home is making funeral arrangements.

John P. Donovan, 29, 708 13th Ave., Green Bay, Tuesday became the third Brown County fatality in more than a week.

Donovan died shortly before noon of severe head injuries, including a fractured skull, when the car he was driving crashed on Taylor Street at its intersection with Larsen Road.

The car left the road at a curve, glanced off a culvert and crashed into a utility pole. Donovan was thrown from the car and landed in a field on the opposite side of the road.

Third to Die Donovan was the third person to die as the result of an auto accident in just over a week. Norbert Cramer, 23, 210 N. Taylor street, died of injuries sustained in a crash May 20, and Joseph Lemerond, 16, route 1, Oneida, died May 22 of injuries suffered in an accident May 20.

Robert J. Quilice, 18, Kenosha, was killed Tuesday evening when his motorcycle veered out of control and struck a utility pole on Highway 75 about one mile west of Menomonie Falls. Authorities said that Quilice was on leave from the Navy.

Sgt. George Liebl, 30, Army recruiting officer at Waukesha and driver of one of two cars involved in a collision on Highway 67 west of Waukesha Monday died in a hospital early Tuesday. The other driver, Mrs. Jennie Guthrie, 61, of Mukwonago, was killed in the accident. She was a teacher at Saylesville school in Waukesha County.

Subway Cars Blamed For Testy Atmosphere In Senate Chambers

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., has tracked down the reason for the "irritable, testy, acrimonious atmosphere" in the senate.

The fault, he says, is the new subway cars which give the senators a "jolting, jarring, nerve-racking ride" between their offices and the chamber every day.

He urged the senate to sell the cars to Disneyland, Coney Island or the "Moscow (USSR) Subway Authority."

He took the floor to comment on an announcement by senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana that one of the old trolleys in the old tunnel will remain in operation until the end of the session.

The Smithsonian Institution and some private museums have asked for it and its companion trolley.

But Fulbright took the position that if anything has to go it should be the new cars.

Teen-age Bride Dies Ten Days After Wedding

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—Nancy Fortune, 17, a bride of 10 days, is dead. She never knew her marriage to her childhood sweetheart, Dwight Twomey, was doomed.

Their wedding was planned for years, as they grew up together in nearby Riverside. But Dwight was called for military service, and they decided to wait until he was free.

Twomey went to Okinawa for 13 months, with the Marines. In that time Nancy fell ill. She was brought to Community Hospital here, and Dwight, 19, came home.

They were married last week at the hospital's chapel, in the presence of the family and a few friends. Nancy went back to her hospital bed for more treatment, cheered by dreams of her life with Dwight.

Her husband and relatives knew she hoped in vain. But Nancy never learned that she had leukemia, which took her life Monday night.

Fewer Crashes on State, U. S. Roads

Wisconsin Patrol Assigns Men to Areas Where Mishaps are Heavy

While traffic deaths last year in Wisconsin exceeded the toll for 1959, there actually were fewer deaths on those state and federal routes under "line patrol" by the state patrol than on those same stretches in 1959.

Highway stretches selected for concentrated patrolling are chosen on the basis of high accident experience covering a two-year period. These heavily-traveled routes demand extra attention because of the greater exposure to danger by increasing numbers of motorists using these more popular routes.

"Weekends are particularly bad," the state patrol 1960 annual report adds. "For this reason all patrolmen work every weekend of the year and most holidays."

43,892 Arrests
State patrolmen arrested 43,892 motorists in 1960 for hazardous moving violations, presented 70,415 warning tickets for violation of equipment laws, and maintained a 97 per cent conviction rate for hazardous violations.

Communication with northern counties was greatly improved when a control center at Schofield in Marathon County was set up March 1, 1960. Last year state

Co-op Managers Plan Meeting At Greenville

Public relations and policies will be discussed at a meeting of officials of Farmers Union Central Exchange Co-op at Greenville Grange Hall Thursday. The conference, expected to attract about 125 persons, is the second in a series of three in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Service to members, company policies and functions of the cooperative in field work will be discussed.

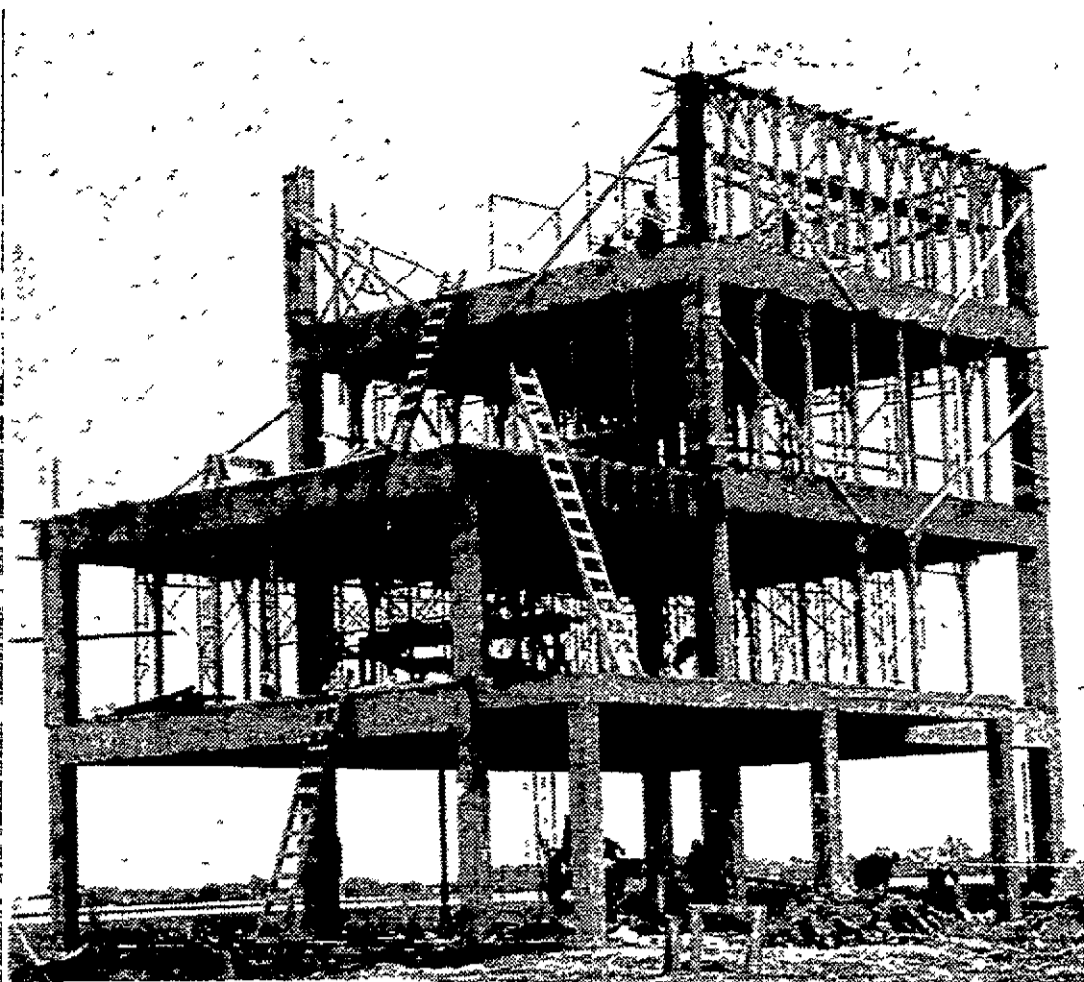

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. with a discussion and a talk by Darrell Moseson, credit manager of the co-op. Thomas Ellerbe, director of public relations, will discuss that field after a noon luncheon. Management will be discussed by Charles Olsen, director of personnel.

A banquet is planned at 6 p.m.

703 mishaps during 1960. By the end of 1960, nearly 100 miles of interstate routes had been opened to the public. Ultimately Chicago, Milwaukee, Madison, Wisconsin Dells, Eau Claire, Minneapolis, LaCrosse and communities along the way will be connected by this system.

"Much of the traffic that now clogs the routes between these areas will be diverted, making those roads safer for local traffic," the state patrol 1960 annual report emphasizes. "The Interstate Highway System is a giant step forward in the war against traffic accidents and congestion."

Twenty-five of the state patrol's authorized 250 men were assigned to I-System last year. These 25 men traveled 1,201,773 miles, making 6,361 "assists" to motorists, issuing 4,697 arrest citations and patrolling in rotation shifts 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Workmen Are Framing the fourth floor pillars for the new $150,000 flight control tower at the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh. On top of the fourth floor will go the observation cab. P. G. Miron Construction Co., Appleton, has the general contract.

Legislators Continue To Pour in New Bills

600 Measures Had Been Proposed by March Deadline, but Total Mounts

MADISON (AP) — Some 12 can sometimes be broken by law-makers weeks after the deadline, Wisconsin lawmakers continue to pour new bills into the legislative hopper. The Committees on Rules, Legislative Procedures, Joint Finance and Revisions and Repeals can March 6 technically was the last day for offering new legislation in the 1961 session. By that date about 600 ideas for new laws or for changes in the old ones had been presented by lawmakers.

Also, the information required to be presented within the eight-week deadline may consist of little more than a title and a few rough notes on what the legislators have in mind. It's up to the reference library staff to come up with the specific language of the bill.

But the flow of new proposals has hardly slowed since that date. Last week, as legislators headed off for a vacation after nearly five months work, they had introduced 1,350 bills in the current session. New bills still were arriving at the rate of two dozen a week.

Set Deadline
Some Legislators set the deadline for bills just a few days before the session opens. In some cases, bills must be introduced before the Legislature's opening day or it can't be considered except by special permission of the majority.

Wisconsin's Legislature for making a serious effort, said years had an informal deadline Toepel.

That body's 33 members have introduced about eight weeks after the session got under way. In 1959 not far from the 727 total reached the eight-week rule was formally in the lengthy 1959 session.

The Assembly's 100 members By the end of the sixth week have presented 664 bills and hard-the Winnebago County board. Then two more weeks are allowed for the reference library staff with all the information needed to draft find out it's the first time the Staffield, Neenah, aviation committee chairman.

But rules made by lawmakers bills than the Assembly.

Young Hobby Club

Now's the Time to Earn Prizes From Cappy Dick

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! What time do you get out of bed each school day?

By pasting the hands on the clock in the picture to show the hour you awaken, you have a chance to be the winner of a set of three big, useful books — a 946-page, Thorndike-Barnhart Advanced Junior Dictionary, a 528 page science book entitled "Everyday Problems in Science," and a 288-page book about the United States called "In All Our States," all published by Scott, Foresman and Company.

Five sets of these books will be awarded as the national prizes in today's easy contest. One set will go to each boy or girl whose contest entry is judged to be one of the five best received from boys and girls in all cities where the Young Hobby Club column is published.

In addition, you have a chance to win a local prize. This is "The Hindu Mystic Trick" which enables you to tell the age of any person, the date of the month on which he was born, the date on which any important event happened to him, or the number of coins in his pocket. The secret equipment for this trick can be carried in your pocket. Five will be awarded as local prizes to boys and girls of the Fox Cities area.

By winning a local prize you qualify for consideration for one of the national prizes. The three books comprising each national Here's how to enter the contest: Clip out the funny alarm clock and its hands. Paste the clock on paper or a postal card. Paste the hands on its face to show what time you get up on school days.

Print your name, age and address beneath the clock. Decorate your entry in any neat, original way. Address it to Cappy Dick's Midwest Contest at the Post-Crescent. Mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Health Commissioner Asks Housing Code for Appleton To Preserve City's Core Area

Says Proposed Law Would Stop Deterioration of Dwelling Units

A housing code for Appleton, by Regional Planning Commission, attended the board meeting of the city, is being proposed by Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, health commissioner.

This is the first time any formal action has been taken to institute a house code here, it was reported.

"Such a code can be a real boon to the community for health, safety, moral and financial reasons," Dr. Kagen told the board of health this morning.

But several members of the board of health and Building Inspector Walter Bogan said the proposed model housing code ordinance needs some careful study before one could be adopted that would fit the needs of Appleton. The model ordinance, supplied by Dr. Kagen, is the one recommended by the American Public Health Association, Inc. Bogan said that in several places the suggested ordinance conflicts with state and local laws.

Preventive Legislation It was said that Appleton is not large enough to need a housing code. However, Dr. Kagen asked rhetorically, "How about preventive legislation, the same as we have preventive medicine?"

The commissioner said a housing code would require property owners to keep their buildings in good condition to promote health and safety. It would promote good morals by eliminating crowded conditions in dwellings, he said. The city's finances would be helped, the doctor contended, by preventing deterioration of core area property so that taxes would not be reduced drastically on older buildings. "As people become more affluent they move to the suburbs, leaving the core area to be taken over by the poorer people, who often live in unhealthy, crowded conditions," he said.

Advances in Share Prices

Moderate Upturn In Heavy Early Afternoon Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved moderately higher in heavy trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .50 at 250.20 with industrials up .60, rails up .20 and utilities up .20.

The advance was selective, fractional gains among key stocks outnumbering losers.

Gains of more than a point by some of the blue chips added a note of strength but there was little in the way of group leadership.

Steels were mixed. Motors were easy.

American Telephone continued its rebound of Friday, adding 1 1/2. Du Pont was up a point at the start but traded off 1/2 as the session wore on. GM was up 1/2 at the start but later traded off 1/2.

Texas Gulf Producing rose 3 points.

American Cyanamid advanced 4 1/2.

Zenith advanced 2 points. Republic Aviation 1 1/2 and Woolworth added another point.

Fractional losses were shown by Ford and Chrysler. U.S. Steel was down 1/2 and Bethlehem.

The Doe Jones industrial average at noon was up .79 at 697.02. Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were steady.

U. S. Products on Parade in Finland

BY BRAD ABSETZ

HELSINKI — In the great exhibition halls of Helsinki's Fair of Uncle Sam's top hat with a Ground exhibition building there was a feverish last minute preparation of the exhibits sent by the more than 250 American industrial firms to the first American Trade Fair.

Brad Absetz is an American teacher of English in Finland and has been in that country for six years. He speaks Finnish fluently. During his stay there he has contributed to Finnish and American publications as a free-lance writer. This article was written especially for the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Fair ever to be held in Finland. More than 2,000 items ranging from cosmetics to giant bulldozers, representing the industries of at least 25 states, are on display during the fair.

The theme and name of the fair is "America Today." Countless Finnish families have relatives in the U.S. living the "American Way of Life."

In 1899 there were nearly a 100,000 Finnish-born Americans and nearly 500,000 Americans whose parents or grandparents were born in Finland.

These Finnish families are streaming to the fair by the thousands to have a look at how their relatives are living. Another thing that draws fair-goers is in spite of the "next door neighbors" proficiency with Sputniks and satellites, most Finns envision the U.S. as the world's fairland of technological marvels and they are coming to see this fairyland.

Opening Day

An editor for one of the leading Finnish magazines has predicted that attendance at the fair will smash all previous attendance records at the Helsinki Fair Grounds.

On opening day, Friday, the Helsinki streets resounded to the playing of the U.S. Air Force band, which marched through the city toward the fair ground and the sky overhead was pierced by the supersonic roars of the Air Force aerial team, the Skyblazers, flying their F-100 C Super Sabres through terrifying intricate maneuvers. The opening ceremonies at the fair were honored by the presence of President and Mrs. Kekkonen (who certainly are eager to get a preview of what they will see in the U.S. next fall when they will pay an official visit.

Of the eight presidents Finland has had since 1919, President Kekkonen will be the first to visit the U.S.

U. S. Symbol

Helsinki is engaged in an all out effort to promote "America Today." The largest department stores have devoted their complete window space to displays of American merchandise using typical Americana themes in their decorating motifs.

New Concept for Protecting Natural Resources Emerges

Idea of Scenic Easement Would be Part Of Gov. Nelson's $50 Million Program

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A new concept of natural resources protection is emerging in current statehouse deliberations on Gov. Nelson's broad-scale recreational lands program.

It is the idea of the scenic easement, under which it is proposed that the public protect its interest in the natural and esthetic values of landscape of all kinds, that is being developed along the Mississippi River in collaboration with the other complications involved with the outright purchase and ownership of desirable lands.

The scenic easement plan is right to enjoyment of the natural appearance of private lands. In the governor's widely endorsed program of allocating $50 million would be involved. Under such an easement arrangement he would continue to own the land, till it, produce crops and live on it, and pay taxes to his local governmental district. But he would contract to preserve its natural appearance, along a main highway, on the approaches to a lake or a river, or other public recreational facility.

Specific Assurance

One planning expert told the legislature that it permits the public to "buy a contract that the farmer won't lose up his land." In specific terms it would be an assurance against residential or commercial development that would threaten tree cutting, or other changes in the landscape.

One advantage is that such easements would be far more economical than outright purchase. Prices up to half of the purchase value equivalent would be high, the legislators were told.

Kennedy Sets Up Group on Labor Disputes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has set up a commission to handle labor disputes at space and missile sites. The purpose is to avoid strikes and slowdowns which witnesses recently told a senate subcommittee have delayed missile projects.

Kennedy issued an executive order setting up the commission and charged it with the task of anticipating labor problems before they become acute.

The order does not call for compulsory arbitration, but does provide that the commission may economical than outright purchase. Prices up to half of the purchase value equivalent would be high, the legislators were told.

Tax Base Problem

Another would be the elimination of the resistance to state land purchases based on the erosion of town and school district tax bases. Pressure is already building for a system of state real estate tax payments to towns and school units.

The easement device might apply to the neighborhoods of state parks, camp grounds, public water access points and others, but in the governor's current program principal emphasis is given to a plan for scenic easements along highways as a contribution to the attraction and retention of tourist traffic.

The governor has asked for $2 million for such contracts during the next 10 years, involving up to 3,000 miles of the most heavily traveled tourist roads.

He wants to continue the easement program along the Mississippi River, and to apply it also to protect scenic values along Lakes Michigan and Lake Superior and Green Bay, along the Chippewa, Wisconsin, Fox, Milwaukee and Wolf Rivers, in the lake and woods country of upper Wisconsin, and through the Menominee Indian district in northern Wisconsin and the kettle moraine region of southeastern Wisconsin.

Milwaukee Man Is Rallymaster For KHS Reunion

KAUKAUNA — Thomas Foster Miller, Milwaukee, a 1916 graduate of Kaukauna High School and now general commercial manager of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., will be rallymaster for the June 17 annual reunion of the Kaukauna High School Alumni Association.

The rally, the 25th of the class, will be held at Van Abel's, Hollandtown. Miller starred in football, track and basketball at Kaukauna High from 1912 through 1916 and served as business manager for the first high school annual.

Two Men Fined on Conduct Charges

KAUKAUNA — Robert A. Lap, 23, 430 Whitney St., Kaukauna, was fined $30 by Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace on a disorderly conduct charge after a disturbance at the home of an acquaintance of Lappen's. James Martzahl, 18, 169 Raught St., Kaukauna, was fined $10 on a disorderly charge when someone in the car he was driving threw empty beer cans onto a lawn.

1 YEAR ROUND SUPER SAVINGS MARKET

Sale of GM Stock Might Help DuPont

BY SYLVIA PORTER

In its most important anti-trust decision since it ordered the breakup of the Standard Oil empire 50 years ago, the Supreme Court last week ruled that E. I. duPont must get rid of the 600,000 shares it owns in General Motors because this stock ownership has given duPont a favorable position in the sale of auto finishes and fabrics of GM and this is a violation of Section 7 of the Clayton anti-trust act.

What does this historic decision mean, and what might it mean to us, in general, and to owners of duPont and GM stock, in particular?

Before getting into details, a summary of the judgments, I've obtained from informed sources last week in Wall St. and Washington is:

Despite the initial "dizziness" in Wall St. and the retreat in the prices of both stocks, the results of the break-up over the long run will be beneficial to duPont, GM and to the rest of us.

Outline of Case

Here is a short outline of the case.

In 1918, duPont began investing in GM stock and it now owns 23 per cent of all GM's shares there with a value of almost $300,000.

Justice Dept. brought suit to force a severing of the stock tie between the two companies, and back in 1957 the Supreme Court ruled that the effect of the stock tie could indeed "be substantial" to lessen competition, or to create a monopoly, and thus duPont's ownership was a violation of the Clayton Act.

The question before the court this time was solely how to remedy the violation and the Supreme Court's decision last Monday was that the way to sever it is to sever it. Within 60 days about potential more-coupled in the executive suite but what's wrong with that? The soul - searching, the plan must take effect, with that? Most hurt us, the public, and it may help.

To owners of duPont and GM shares, the vital questions now are how the shares will be distributed and how the distribution will be taxed. If the shares are just "dumped" on the market - even over a 10-year period - the price impact could be vicious. In its 1957 decision, the highest court declared that any acquisition by one corporation of another corporation's stock was "within the reach" of taxes on the dividend as ordinary income, the tax impact could be most unfair and severe. But, of course, duPont is not going to "dump" the shares and, of course, ways will be worked out to minimize the tax impact! As Wall St. experts have pointed out, the possibilities they've come up with a dozen-and-one come up all of which would virtually erase any adverse tax impact. Not the least of the possibilities, by the way, is that duPont will delay its plan until Congress can act to ease the tax bite.

Also to duPont and GM owners, a fundamental pact surely is that duPont is not going to produce less attractive products because it must get rid of its GM shares, and GM is not going to sell fewer cars because duPont is distributing its shares. If anything, duPont may try to make more competitive products to keep GM's business and GM may be able to buy cheaper because of the competition.

This is a spectacular break-up, but history separates among giants have benefited all involved. Assuming duPont and GM are as good companies today as a week ago today, there's no reason history shouldn't repeat.

Survey Shows Road Speeds Rise Steadily

Typical Driver Approaches or Goes Over Legal Limits

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—Gradual tendencies to increase motor vehicle speed on the rural highways of Wisconsin, recorded by the state highway department's automatic traffic observation posts in recent years, suggest that the typical Wisconsin driver on many typical roads is approaching or exceeding the legal speed limits.

The latest state highway department study of the 25 percentile speeds of various motor vehicle categories, showed that test stations recorded speeds of 63.6 miles per hour for Wisconsin applies to heavier commercial passenger cars, 64.5 miles per hour for foreign passenger cars, 58.1 miles per hour for light trucks, 52.7 miles per hour for heavy trucks and 58.5 miles an hour for buses.

The 85 percentile rate for all vehicles recorded, totalling more than 5,000 at a wide variety of stations, was put at 62.5 miles an hour.

Excludes Extremes
The percentile method is one used by statisticians to show the speeds at or below which drivers are traveling. It has the effect of excluding the percentage of drivers travelling at extreme speeds.

There has been an apparent increase in support for the liberalization of speed limits, in recognition of better highway engineering and highway construction standards.

The assembly of the legislature has already approved a bill that would liberalize speed limits in most categories. It is now being considered by the highways committee of the state senate, members of which have shown some doubts about the measure as it applies to heavier commercial passenger cars, 64.5 miles per
